Spotlight On Anticton; Political Interest Quickens

General C.C.F. Nominating Meets On Tuesday; Liberals Hold Most Interest
Political activity has decidedly quickened in Vernon Okanagan this week and next Wednesday the general spotlight swings squarely on Penticton where the C.C.F. and C.C.F. each will hold their federal nominating conventions.

It seems a foregone conclusion that O. L. P. will receive the C.C.F. nomination by acclamation. Naming of a candidate by the Liberals offers no equal certainty.

May 19-23 Dates For T.B. Control X-Ray Service

The Mobile T.B. Control Unit which offers free chest X-rays, will be in Vernon from May 19 to 23. Designed for the purpose of preventing tuberculosis, the survey offers chest X-ray examinations to all persons over 14 years of age, free of charge. Those examined must volunteer for the service.

Information of the dates for the unit's Vernon visit the Chrysler Chapter I.O.D.E., which takes the major role in supporting the project locally, has made plans for the survey.

A meeting of representatives from all organizations in regards to canvassing the city and district has been called for Tuesday, at 8 p.m., in the Elementary School Library.

On the unit's last visit to Vernon, two years ago, some 4,912 persons were X-rayed here in a 11½ days. That campaign was referred to as the "best organized and best publicized."

Enforce or Repeal Store Closing Bylaw, City Told

Board of Trade Again Presses Matter; "Surprised" at Reduction In Grant

A letter from the Vernon Board of Trade regarding the store closing bylaw was read at the City Council meeting on Tuesday evening. The Board is of the opinion that if a by-law is "good it should be enforced; if bad, then amended or repealed."

This sparked a brief discussion on the matter of closing hours observed by storekeepers outside the city. Mayor T. R. B. Adams said he had an interview with the Government Agent, A. E. Wilson, and the outcome was "nil." There is no legal action Mr. Wilson could take, Mayor Adams said.

Alderman David Howie expressed the opinion that it would be almost impossible to enforce store closing hours outside the municipal boundaries unless "there was the backing of the province."

Alderman E. B. Cousins' motion that the Trade Board's letter be received and filed, was carried, although Alderman Howie favored further consideration.

Board "Surprised"
While thanking the City Council for its 1949 grant of $800 towards expenses for the current year, the Board of Trade expressed "surprise" that it was not the $1,000 originally asked.

The Board voluntarily cut the $1,200 grant received from the city in 1948 to $1,000, and budgeted in anticipation of this sum.

Alderman David Howie, chairman of the Finance Committee, said that it was too late now to increase the grant.

Red Cross Drive Nets Over $9,800

Ewing's Landing, Finty District Donates $245; Canvass Not Completed

With donations still coming in, Vernon and district's quota for the 1949 Red Cross campaign needs less than $200.

Yesterday afternoon, Wednesday, chairman Harold Whitmore stated that over $9,800 has been turned in. The quota is $10,000.

Highlight of this week's collections is $245 from Ewing's Landing and Finty, under Mrs. F. E. C. Haines. This community has about 45 to 50 people all told.

The Red Cross Rooms are now closed in the afternoon, except on Tuesday and Saturday, anyone having donations to turn in is asked to "leave them at the Bank of Montreal."

No Decision Yet On Park Site for Lions' Band Shell

The site of the Lions Club Band Shell has not yet been decided, said Alderman D. D. Harris told the City Council on Tuesday evening. He was of the opinion that it should not be built in the well-established portion of Polson Park, but erected at the other, or newer end, known as the Rotary Park.

Mayor T. R. B. Adams commented that the Shell will be a great asset to the park, but warned that "the maximum number of people must be satisfied," and that there were many angles to the question.

An offer from Pope and Little on behalf of a client, of $400 for a lot in Zone "A," on which a home will be built, has been turned over to the Land Sales Committee for report. The prospective purchaser offered one-third of the purchase price of $400 on acceptance, and the balance in 10 equal monthly installments, to commence in May.

Mr. Bydlowski waited on the Council, asking relief in the matter of sewer costs on his property at 4113-27th Street. Mr. Bydlowski

"Bolshevism Must Be Destroyed"

"Bolshevism must be destroyed. It is a danger to the democratic way of life, culture, economy, free thought and free religion for every body. We who have seen this regime and danger, feel obliged to warn the people who have not seen it, and who think Bolshevism means a higher standard of living. We must warn you because it is our moral duty."

This "duty" was fulfilled on Friday afternoon by Professor Jaroslav Rudnytsky, former professor of Slavic philology at the Ukrainian University in Prague, Czechoslovakia. The Slovak-haired, round faced, brown-eyed political exile is on a lecture tour of Western Canada under sponsorship of the Ukrainian Cultural and Educational Centre at Winnipeg, Man.

In an interview with The Vernon News, Professor Rudnytsky told of the Ukrainians who were fighting Bolshevism and about the liquidation of Ukrainian cultural and scientific achievements.

Dolph Browne President of Highway Group

Organization Names City Men to New Directorate Washington-B.C. Body

A Vernon man, Dolph Browne, was elected president of the Okanagan-Cariboo-Trail-Alaska Highway Association at its annual meeting in Wenatchee on Sunday. Also attending from this city was George Jacques. Six Kelowna members and representatives of the Board of Trade were included in the party, which made the trip from Ellison Field, Kelowna, by air, returning the same evening.

E. Miller, of Wenatchee, was re-elected first vice-president, and E. Dickey, of Revelstoke, was named second vice-president. Other directors elected were C. Pentz, of Osoyoos; D. Campbell, of Chelan; L. Brinkerhoff, of Okanagan; and George Jacques, of Vernon. The secretary and treasurer will be appointed by the directors at a later date.

The Okanagan-Cariboo Trail was founded in 1924 with the objective of improving highways and encouraging greater use of the great inland "trough" by tourists. The Association was very active in pre-war years, and indications are that it will again be an important factor in diverting tourist traffic into the Okanagan and Cariboo areas.

Discussed at the meeting were broadening of the group to include Dolph Browne

North Okanagan Stockmen Take Back Seat to No One

"Produce More Beef Per Square Mile Than Any Other District In Province"

The beef cattle industry reached no small proportions in the North Okanagan for 1948, so Vernon E. Ellison, of Oyoama, told the annual meeting of the North Okanagan Beef Growers' Association, held at the Coldstream Ranch, on Friday evening.

That 9,000 carcasses were marketed last year from the North Okanagan, and that the cattle population of beef and dairy herds approximates 25,000 head, were statements by Mr. Ellison, meeting chairman, and 1948 president of the association.

"The North Okanagan is the third area in regard to size in British Columbia."

"We are not taking a back seat to anyone."

"All the major prizes from the March Bull Sale and Fat Stock Show at Kamloops came to the Okanagan," Mr. Ellison said to the accompaniment of loud applause and cries of "hear, hear" from the large audience.

Representatives of the beef cattle industry attended from Kelowna through to Enderby. T. P. Hill, manager of Coldstream Ranch and a member of the local beef growers' executive with Mrs. Hill, were warmly thanked by the meeting for making the men's dining room available for the gathering, and for serving refreshments.

Tierney O'Keefe, 1948 secretary, stated in his report that $63 was in hand.

"The North Okanagan Beef Growers' Association is an important institution. We are entitled to two directors to the B. C. Beef Growers' Association, which group represents the beef industry of the Province," Mr. Ellison declared.

The group is affiliated with the B.C. Federation of Agriculture. Mr. Ellison gave the area covered by the North Okanagan growers as extending approximately from Kelowna to Enderby, a district about 60 by 30 miles.

In the Nicola-Merrill area, where the beef cattle production is looked upon as a major industry, only 8,000 head were shipped last year, as against the North Okanagan's 9,000 head.

"We produce more beef per square mile than anywhere else in North Okanagan"

Vernon Curlers Win At Ogopogo Bonspiel

The Ogopogo Bonspiel at Kelowna was concluded in the early hours of today, Thursday morning. By 11 p.m. Wednesday L. Valair, of Vernon, had won the Royal Curling Cup for event number two, defeating F. Debb, of Kelowna, 5-3 in the final. Alex Green of Vernon was in the final for event number three and the U.D.L. Cup.

With A. Bogner, of Princeton, Dolph Browne, of Vernon, was in the semi-final round of consolation "main event." Byron McDonald Memorial Cup was won by Reg. Scott, of Princeton, who beat Bill McQuellane, of Penticton, 10-9, in a thrilling 12-ender after coming from behind to tie the game at nine all in the 11th end.

Spirited Discussion at Trade Board Meet On Dust and Dirt from Roads

Proposed repairs on the Kalamalka Lake road, the condition of Barnard Avenue, plus other city streets, and the dust and dirt arising from Vernon roads, particularly on the main thoroughfare, sparked a spirited discussion at a lively meeting of the Vernon Board of Trade last night, Wednesday.

A resolution, moved by T. Ritchie, chairman of the Board's roads committee, touched off the comment. As previously reported in The Vernon News, the Provincial Department of Public Works proposes a 22-foot wide gravelled surface for a mile portion of the Kalamalka Lake Road to be rebuilt. Hard surfacing of this stretch is not planned this year.

The Board requested that the department give the "utmost consideration" to complete hard surfacing of this comparatively short stretch of highway, thus bringing it up to its former standard while needed equipment is still in this general area.

The Board points out the "highway is one of the principal travelled thoroughfares in this area, used by agriculturists, also by the general public and hundreds of children daily en route to the public beach and recreation areas."

H. J. Fosbrooke, Board president, declared he had broached the subject to C. W. Morrow, M.L.A., and had been given the understanding that the heavy works program in B.C. this year and not lack of funds was the reason for the department not completing the work.

Members suggested the road might be left as it is for a year, with minor repairs, until the major work can be completed at one time. George Jacques suggested the road be torn up in the fall, gravelled, allowed to settle after the major traffic was over, and then hard surfaced by the next summer.

"No Earthly Reason"
C. J. McDowell, vice-president, could see "no earthly reason" why the work couldn't be done when hard surfacing equipment would be in the district. The meeting brought out that the city and Coldstream municipality were prepared to repair their portions of the road at the same time.

Lou Maddin moved a resolution from the Retail Merchants' Association. This asked for a "scheduled program" by the city in hard surfacing of city streets and brought forward the urgent necessity of keeping the main street as free as possible from dust and dirt. The merchants said the dust and dirt caused a loss of business, left a bad impression of the city, and caused damage to merchandise.

Alderman D. D. Harris, chairman of the Board of Works, answered this resolution. He pointed to the city's "limited finances," and said the city was trying to wash the main street once a week. Trucks from outside areas, sand thrown on the roads during winter, lack of rain—all these made for a "dirty" street.

Vernon Liberals Propose Few Candidates for Yale

Hear Report from Nominating Group; Stress Importance of Labor Ballots

"The summer ahead looks like a very busy one... politically speaking."

These remarks by C. W. Morrow, M.L.A. for North Okanagan, set the pace at a meeting of the Vernon and District Liberal Association in the Burns Hall Monday night. The 22 Liberals present received reports on the provincial convention at Vancouver last week, reiterated their stand to name a Liberal to contest the federal election in Yale, suggested several persons for the post, and named delegates to the Yale Liberal nominating convention in Penticton on Wednesday.

Major part of the discussion centred in proposing and "defining" a suitable candidate to contest successfully Yale riding by the Liberals.

At the earlier nominating convention in Kelowna, a four-man committee was appointed to bring in names of those willing to accept the Yale nomination. Two members of this committee, R. F. Crutcher, of Kelowna, chairman, and Frank Baldock, of Vernon, were present and reported on progress made.

Suggest Three Names
Persons named at the meeting as possible candidates for the nomination were Mrs. Fred Dean and Miss Hilda Cryderman, both of Vernon, and Robert Hayman, of Kelowna, a young barrister.

Introducing the main topic of the evening, H. K. Beal, chairman, declared, "We want an out and out Liberal" as candidate and one "who if we lose this election will stay in the running for the next election."

City Rotarians Host To Interior American Clubs

Spokane Attorney Urges Goodwill In Search For World Peace and Justice

Eighty-five Rotarians from B.C. Interior and United States points gathered in Vernon on Monday evening for the first international and inter-city meeting ever held in this district.

Vernon Rotarians under president A. J. Wright were hosts for the evening to members from Revelstoke, Kamloops, Salmon Arm, Kelowna, Okanagan-Omak, and Spokane. Proceedings included a dinner, entertainment, and address, and the affair was held in the Canadian Legion auditorium.

In the absence of the District Governor, Al Carlson, of Spokane, a fellow club member, Walter Camp, was present and urged a full attendance at the annual District Conference in May. This will be a joint gathering of two neighboring "international" districts and will be held at Spokane in May.

The forward march of industry and science, which have so materially advanced western civilization, has essentially been a development of goodwill, of wanting to help others, so the meeting was informed by W. S. "Win" Gilbert, Spokane attorney. The world must use the same principles, "the technique of goodwill," in the search for peace and material justice, Mr. Gilbert said.

Chairman of the evening was Dr. Wright. Entertainment was provided by a number of visitors and during the dinner selections were given by the Vernon instrumental trio of Mrs. Ella Gaunt Stevenson, Mrs. Harland Fisher, and Miss Catherine Alkman.

Council Won't Pay Increase In Fees For Coast Lawyer

A letter from O. W. Morrow, city solicitor, read at Tuesday evening's Council meeting, stated he had seen P. G. Norris, K.C., in Vancouver, who was anxious to receive payment for the balance of his account, incurred during litigation with Safeway Stores Limited. The letter was tabled for discussion, and was gone into during committee after the open session.

Enquiring of City Clerk J. W. Wright on Wednesday, The Vernon News was told the Council will not pay this. After the bill was incurred, new legislation was passed enabling barriers to add 25 percent to their fees. On the grounds that Mr. Norris' services were secured before the increase in fees was authorized, the city feels it is not responsible.

Lumby Community Club To Help Sponsor Stampede

LUMBY, April 12.—Gordon Trussler and George Fisher were elected president and vice-president respectively of the Lumby Community Club at its annual meeting held in the Community Hall on Monday night. W. Treen was appointed treasurer and Ted Bailey secretary. Executive members elected were Bill Dyke, J. Martin, G. Sadd and A. Kirkstader. Over 65 people attended the gathering.

In the absence of a financial report, Mr. Winsor outlined briefly the receipts and disbursements for the past year and informed the meeting that the club was about $60 in the red on the 1948 operations.

After considerable discussion as to the number of directors to be chosen for the ensuing year, a resolution was passed that seven members be elected, five of these to be ratepayers. The call for nominations produced 25 names, 13 of these refusing to stand.

The meeting concluded with the reading of a letter requesting the Lumby Legion requesting them on a 50-50 basis in the Legion's annual stampede. This move would make the stampede a community event instead of a straight Legion affair. A meeting will be held in the Legion Hall tonight, Thursday, to discuss this subject.

Mrs. T. P. Moore, of West Summerland, is visiting her parents for the Easter holidays.

Mrs. Tony Willemis has returned to her home from the Vernon Jubilee Hospital, where she has been a patient for some time. Her condition is much improved.

The road to the garbage dump is still unfit for travel, making garbage disposal difficult.

E. A. Rennie and Paul Specht were delegates to the B.C. Liberal convention held in Vancouver recently.

Baby clinics are held in the Legion Hall on the first and third Wednesday of each month.

Road restrictions are still holding up some of the town activities. However, the warm weather is drying up thoroughfares rapidly.

The Besette and Harris creeks are now running full.

Urge Program

He promised "we will do what we can," and added that if "some of the citizens were a little tidier it would help a lot."

Mr. Fosbrooke declared the people would like to see the establishment of a plan working steadily towards "cleaner streets."

"They wish the city might establish a program of hard surfacing the side roads leading to the main street."

"That," replied Mr. Harris, "is our earnest hope. The street problem is most depressing."

Mr. Harris referred to the streets the government was to take over. Concerning frost damage, all the frost is not yet out of the ground.

"We are reaping the results of little constructive work being done since the 1930's. Our hope this year is to do some constructive work. But until we get the roads hard surfaced, we can't expect to keep the town clean."

Referring to the present method of washing the main street down by fire hoses, R. D. Douglas said the hoses wash the dirt on to the sidewalk and the store windows. He suggested the use of a water wagon with men brushing the street down.

Said Archie Fleming: "If you wash Barnard Avenue three times a week, there won't be a road there at all. It's full of holes. Let's get a main street first."

Admitting the city had its hands full, Mr. Jacques declared: "We haven't got a surfaced street. Barnard Avenue should be surfaced again. It has never been finished into the curb. Unless we get a real program, this menace will be with us for ever. We spent all that money and the job was never finished."

Alderman Harris said the job could not be done unless a bylaw for $250,000 was floated. Alderman Fred Harwood said there could be no clean streets until the building program was finished. Other suggestions were to stop large trucks from travelling the main street.

Urgent Need For Hotel

F. R. Harris asked if there was any further information concerning the building of a new hotel in Vernon. Mr. Fosbrooke replied there was no new activity and that he understood the whole difficulty is in present day building costs. Opinion expressed was unanimous that one of the city's most urgent needs was that for a new hotel. On the question of accommodation, Mr. Fosbrooke mentioned the possibility that the next B.C.F.A. convention would be held in this city.

Other matters brought forth in discussion concerned a new post office for the city; enlargement of the Board's industrial development committee; tourist committee work; development of a lookout spot on the Kelowna Highway; a Board of Trade exhibit in the Exposition, and the frequency of and attendance at Board of Trade meetings.

The burrowing owl is the only land bird which nests underground.

Annual Provincial Convention of Elks Set for Penticton

PENTICTON—On May 29-30, between 200 and 300 members of the B.P.O. Elks and their wives will converge on Penticton for the annual provincial convention.

Reservations are already commencing to pour in for this gathering, with every indication that it will be one of the largest in the recent history of the organization.

While the ladies have no official part in this gathering, they will be entertained, while here, by the members of the Penticton Order of the Royal Purple, and will also be guests at other functions.

Present plans call for a "stag" dinner meeting, a banquet and a convention ball. These details are as yet incomplete, but are already taking shape, with active committees working on them.

There will be a parade of lodge representatives and others during the convention. Tickets for the convention ball may be made available to the public subsequent to accommodating all the visiting representatives. Reservations for this will be opened up some time prior to the function.

Not all the agenda will be social, however, as there is a heavy list of business items to be covered during the two-day gathering.

election." Mr. Bearsto said the budget had given a Liberal candidate wonderful ground on which to fight. He voiced the need for "a young man to appeal to labor."

He ended his remarks by saying that if "Ottawa favors coalition in the federal field—I'll go fishing."

Mr. Cruickshank pointed to "a division of thought" as the "trouble" in Yale riding. This still exists in Penticton, at least enough to cause "a disturbance of mind." He said coalition in B.C. is making it difficult in trying to find a Liberal candidate for Yale.

Mr. Cruickshank suggested Mr. Hayman as a possible nominee, although he was a leader of the coalition movement at the previous nominating convention. With coalition dismissed by the Liberals, Mr. Hayman stood behind the party 100 percent.

"Different Horse Each Time"

Mr. Hayman was not seeking the nomination, said Mr. Cruickshank, who suggested that Mr. Morrow contact the Kelowna man and try to persuade him to accept.

Fred Harwood bluntly declared the need was for a young man "to stay in the field. In the last four Dominion elections we had a different horse each time."

Mr. Bearsto wanted to know if the Federal Liberal party "is supporting us here in this election." No definite answer was forthcoming from the meeting. Mr. Morrow said he really didn't know anything about the situation, but referring to the running of a different candidate each time, he said "we made a terrible mistake." O. L. Jones' victory in the by-election was his "fifth effort."

"Social Function"

Said Mr. Cruickshank: "Too many people in the Liberal party in Yale have just made it a social function for years. Changing our candidate makes it look as though we are groping in the dark."

Noting that approximately 50 percent of the voting population was female and that the Liberal party is "not tied down by tradition," John McKay, president of the Vernon Young Liberal Association, put forth the name of Mrs. Dean.

Mr. Cruickshank queried from where the money for the campaign was going to come. "We are not going to get more than the law will allow from the federal party until we clean house. We have just got to raise the money ourselves."

"We have got to get someone to appeal to the labor vote," again stressed Mr. Bearsto. He said he had heard the name of A. W. Gray, of Rutland, mentioned as a candidate, but he pointed out Mr. Gray was "not very keen."

"The thing that gets me down," continued Mr. Cruickshank, "is that we have no literature. These young people don't know what Liberalism is all about. The people are not aware the C.O.F. is not offering a thing the Liberals aren't putting into effect. The only thing they offer in addition is regimentation and we don't want that."

The feeling in the north of the riding was expressed by Mr. Baldock. This was that the candidate should come from Vernon or Kelowna, should be young enough to repeat a run, and should have a service record. Continuing, Mr. Baldock said: "I'm not at all discouraged or worried. We're just suffering from apathy of a few years. There is not a thing wrong a little elbow grease won't fix."

"We Can Win It!" Mr. Bearsto: "Some get a feeling we can't win it. I feel we can. We had no organization last year and we now have a cracking good organization in Armstrong and Lumby. There is no good putting a man in the field and then lying down on him."

"It is a shame and a crime the way young people are growing up in this country and not taking an interest in government. We could sweep the North Okanagan. Get a fighting spirit. We could win if we got out and worked."

Mrs. R. A. Ferguson, noting attendance, asked Mr. Bearsto how many notices of meeting were mailed out. He replied 200. There were 22 at the meeting.

Mr. Morrow advised a "supreme effort" in the three big centres—Vernon, Kelowna and Penticton. "If we win in these, I don't see how we can be beaten."

Mrs. C. J. McDowell named Miss Oryderman as a possible candidate. "She has all the facts at her finger tips, knows what she is talking about, and can talk to all kinds of people."

Anybody Want to Run? Franklin Valair Jr. pointed out "a great mistake" in selection of a candidate. "We run around and convince somebody to run. If we could say who wants to run and pick from that we might get someone who is going to get one."

Earlier in the meeting, Mr. Bearsto commended the organization of a Young Liberal group here. "They are hoping to build up a real fighting organization to help win these next two elections." Several of the Young Liberals were present at the meeting.

Both Mr. Valair and Mr. Morrow reported on the Liberal convention at Vancouver when, by a margin of five to one, the decision was to continue Coalition provincially. The single transferable vote was an important resolution. Mr.

asked the Council by letter for more water. Water consumption and possible rates, also disposition of dirty water, are under investigation by the various civic departments and reports will be submitted to Council.

"Stench and Flies"

A petition from residents in the vicinity of a farm on 34th Street, complaining of "stench and flies" received sharp criticism from Sanitary Inspector E. B. Winstanley, whose report was read at the Council meeting. The petition, Mr. Winstanley wrote, was dated November 30, 1943, when it "was hard to believe there would be stench and flies" at that time, as the weather was quite cold.

Mr. Winstanley states a current inspection reveals there are deposits of hay and straw, but no manure, at the farm. The owner, A. N. Jakeman, was not interviewed as no health hazard existed. First rate co-operation has been experienced from Mr. Jakeman in the past, the letter continued, further pointing out that "kitchen slops" were deposited close to the rear entrance of one of the subscribers to the petition. This person also keeps ducks and chickens, and these conditions are much more likely to lead to "stench and flies" than the farm, which conforms with zoning regulations.

Mr. Winstanley concluded by urging "tolerance among neighbors." The leading name on the petition has been sent a copy of the letter, and notified as to the Council's opinion.

Water Connections

D. J. Danchuk, of 25th Street, waited on the Council asking for domestic water connections. He said that one resident carries water for four blocks, and that another man has sunk a well to the depth of 180 feet with no result.

The property in question is outside the city limits. Mayor Adams told Mr. Danchuk it is not possible to supply water outside the municipal boundaries. The possibility of the area being taken into the city limits is the only present solution, Alderman E. B. Cousins said.

"We do remain conscious of this problem. . . . We have many calls from all quarters," Mayor Adams told Mr. Danchuk.

Bolshevism

Soviet regime. "The Soviet is going to destroy all Christian culture in the world by different tactics and through the fifth column."

"Dangerous Helpers"

The fifth column in Canada and the United States, according to Professor Rudnycky, is in the form of men and women sympathizing with Communism. "These sympathizers are a true, dangerous helper for Communism in the Western Hemisphere."

Laying particular stress on each word, the Ukrainian exile declared: "These people say Bolshevism is the best way of life. That is not true. We have seen this life and these methods."

"The people here who speak of these things have not seen life behind the Iron Curtain. They are either people without knowledge of the Soviet tactics or paid Communist agents. I have seen it."

"Why Do You Flee?"

Native of Western Ukraine, Professor Rudnycky laughed as he recalled the Czech occupation by the Russians. Nearly all Czechs were Communists sympathizers when the Russians took over, he explained, and they asked us, "why do you flee from our friends?" That was in 1945.

"In 1948, to the Czechs who fled the home country and illegally crossed the border to Western Germany, we asked why they were fleeing," said the professor. "They know it now."

In reference to the many Ukrainians now living in Canada, the professor had this to say. "Many Canadians look on all Ukrainians as Communists. That is not so. Just a small minority are of the Communist element."

In conclusion: "Ask the D.P.'s and other European refugees about Communism. They can tell you."

Morrow stressed that Premier Byron Johnson urged the Liberals to go forward and support the Liberal party in the federal election.

Mr. Morrow spoke of the two elections ahead and added: "In just what order they will hit us no one knows other than Prime Minister St. Laurent. It seems if ours is called, it will be in June."

He explained the nomination of Coalition candidates throughout the province under the Hart formula and the understanding that in the North Okanagan a Liberal would be nominated while in the South Okanagan a Conservative would be the candidate.

Both Mr. Valair and Mr. Morrow reported on the Liberal convention at Vancouver when, by a margin of five to one, the decision was to continue Coalition provincially. The single transferable vote was an important resolution. Mr.

Council Studies Town Planning Recommendation

Meeting in regular session on Tuesday evening, the City Council dealt with five recommendations made by the Town Planning Commission, following a meeting of the last named group on Friday. At that time, various problems turned over by the city to the Commission were dealt with.

Mr. Boychuk's application to erect a confectionery store in the vicinity of MacDonald Park is under consideration by the Commission, and Mr. Boychuk has been so notified. The applicant told the Council two weeks ago that such a store would fill the needs of the new school.

With regard to a subdivision plan, as submitted by A. E. Berry, of Lot 11, Block 58, Map 327, the recommendation of the Town Planning Commission was endorsed by the Council and the plan approved.

Some discussion took place on Tuesday evening regarding a subdivision plan submitted by S. Kruk, of Lot 3, R.P. 3277. Mr. Kruk will be asked to supply more complete information regarding his proposed subdivision, which is at the west end of Barnard Avenue, and the matter will be re-submitted to the Town Planning Commission.

A recommendation that the request of Mr. Wynnichuk to build a house on the east 94 feet of Block Two, Map 3490, be tabled temporarily, was endorsed by the Council. A satisfactory report from the city engineer with regard to sewer connections is awaited.

The Sanitary Inspector will investigate the request of A. Balzer to erect an auto court next to the Green Timbers Auto Court, 2004 43rd Avenue. Recommendation was that septic tank sewage disposal be investigated.

Council Appoints City Student Life Guard at Kal Beach

A new appointment was made by the Vernon City Council on Tuesday evening of this week, to forestall any potential danger of drowning at the City Beach, Kalamalka Lake.

Ted Strother, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Strother, of this city, second year Physical Education student, University of B.C., was appointed as life guard. His duties will commence on June 22, to September 8.

Six applications for the position were received, five of which were from Vancouver. There was only one local applicant.

Fills In Abandoned Well To Forestall Possible Tragedy

No "Little Kathys" in Vernon will be trapped in discarded wells. The City Council on Tuesday evening instructed City Engineer F. G. deWolf to approach the owner of a property in the Vernon Homes subdivision, on which there is an abandoned well, approximately 12 to 15 feet deep and three feet across, to ascertain what arrangements the owner is prepared to make to remove the hazard.

Alderman George Melvin brought up the subject. He said the well is empty, and the bottom is covered with debris. A wooden lid four inches thick covers the well, but it is a few children were playing there, they could easily remove it. He pointed out the horror of a tragedy similar to that which overtook Kathy Fiscus of San Marino, California last weekend.

"We don't want anything like that to happen here," he said.

alleges that when he bought the property, he was not told of the agreement between the city and the vendor, of sewer charges against the land. Of the parcel, 50 feet has been decided to the city for road purposes, and the Council intimated he may be relieved of a portion of the $100 still owing, for that reason.

Alderman Gopins said work has been completed on Pine Street basin, and now the basin is enlarged, officials hope to eliminate the possible source of algae. He would like the bulldozer for water works this fall, he said.

The new pipeline from the intake is practically completed, and tests will be made probably today, Thursday.

Alderman D. D. Harris recommended the erection of "slow" signs already under advisement, in the vicinity of 28th and 27th Streets.

Roads, used as bus routes have been graded, and the machine has been on thoroughfares "every minute since it was possible to operate," Alderman Harris said.

By regular motion, the Department of Public Works at Victoria has been used to urge on the Public Works Department here, the urgency of work on those streets designated as provincial responsibility.

A small section of sidewalk in the vicinity of Stan Hunt's and Campbell Brothers' property will be constructed.

Lift Road Restrictions Existing road restrictions will be lifted, on the recommendation of City Engineer F. G. deWolf.

The sidewalk near the Customs' Park has been completed, and will be ready for use in four or five days.

Twenty-ninth and 30th Avenues were washed yesterday, Wednesday, and Barnard Avenue will be washed for the second time this season today, Thursday.

Carswell Coach Lines Limited complaint to the City Engineer of parking on both sides of 21st Avenue, and double parking on Mara Street and 45th Avenue, received some discussion. Mr. deWolf pointed out that parking space will be provided when the old hospital is demolished, for visitors. "No Parking" signs, used on the north side of 21st Avenue during the winter, will be re-installed. The owner of property in the second location will be told vehicles must be moved off the street.

The traffic committee has under advisement, the width of car parking stripes, presently to be repainted.

The City Clerk's action in calling for tenders, to be in at latest by May 2, for the city fire alarm system, was endorsed.

M. H. C. Beaven, president of the Vernon and District Cricket Association, had approached members of the City Council, requesting permission to take down the fences around Lakeview Park. As the Cricket Association paid about 75 percent of the original fencing costs, the group felt it had some say in the matter, Alderman Harris continued, and approval has been granted. Plans are to burn off the long grass surrounding the cricket pitch, and to paint and otherwise renovate the pavilion.

Rosland Girl Wins Vancouver Kiwanis Club Essay Contest

"To be true Canadian citizens it is necessary for each and every one of us to realize our duties and, when we have realized them, to fulfill these duties to the limit of our ability and capacity."

"The first duty of a citizen is to inform himself of the function of his government so that he may appreciate the privileges and his responsibilities."

These were the opening paragraphs of the essay, "Citizenship Responsibility—the Price of Freedom," by Miss Lillian Marcuzzi, of Rosland, who won top honors in a recent essay contest conducted by the Kiwanis Club of Vancouver. Copyright of all essays remains with the Kiwanis Club.

Some 200 essays were received by the contest officials from all parts of the province. Awarded in prizes was $2,000. Entries from Kamloops, Kelowna and Penticton were among those receiving prizes. No Vernon entries were included in the list of prize winners.

The term collective bargaining was first used in London in 1891 by Beatrice Webb.

Five Vernon Rinks Stay In Running at Kelowna 'Spiel

Five Vernon rinks were still in the prize bracket at 2 o'clock, yesterday, Wednesday, of the first annual Ogopogo Invitational Bonspiel which will reach its final stages this afternoon, Thursday, in the Kelowna and District Memorial Arena.

Record Gross Dollar Value for Canadian Field Crops in 1948

Gross dollar value of the principal field crops produced in 1948 on Canadian farms is placed at $1,601 million, the highest gross dollar value of production recorded in the last 41 years. Crops making the largest contribution to this total are: wheat, valued at $551 million; oats, $254 million; hay and clover, $248 million, and barley, $146 million. The potato, flaxseed, mixed grain, alfalfa and rye crops are valued at $82, $68, $50 and $35 million respectively, with other crops valued at $109 million, making up the remainder.

In North America alone there are some 60 species of willow tree.

The A competition, for the Byron McDonald Trophy, was in its semi-finals with rinks skipped by Bill McQuiston, of Penticton; Carl Stevenson, of Kelowna; Al Phillips, of Vernon, and R. Scott, of Princeton, vying for top honors. The Doug Weir foursome, of Vernon, was knocked out of this event in the eighth by Al Phillips. The score was 9-8.

Six rinks were still contesting the B event, Royal Hotel Cup, with Linwood Valair skipping the lone Vernon rink remaining. Vernon Mehlis and Alex Green manned local rinks which were still in the U.D.L. Cup competition. Play in this event was in its early stages at this time.

The only other local rinks in cup competition yesterday afternoon, were foursomes skipped by Dolph Browne and Dr. J. E. Harvey. They were in the early brackets of the consolation event.

The Orchard City classic attracted 54 rinks, half of these from outside clubs. Work on laying out the six sheets started Saturday, with Vernon Curling Club members giving considerable assistance.

Rinks from Vernon taking part in the bonspiel were skipped by Doug Weir, Vernon Mehlis, Alex Green, Linwood Valair, K. W. Kinard, Dolph Browne and Dr. J. E. Harvey.

Final results of the Kelowna 'spiel will be published in next week's issue of The Vernon News.

North Okanagan

the Province." "Our quality and standards are second to none," Mr. Ellison said.

In introducing W. T. J. "Bill" Bulman, of Kelowna, Mr. Ellison praised the "good work" done by Mr. Bulman for the local beef cattle man. He has given much time to attending meetings in Kamloops, Victoria and elsewhere, Mr. Ellison said.

Mr. Bulman reviewed last year's work. Referring to Government grants, he declared that much money has been put into fairs and Junior Calf Clubs. The Armstrong fair gets a "good slice," but this annual exhibition contributes a lot to the North Okanagan, he said.

He urged more and better understanding of the B.C. Beef Cattle Assistance Act. Fees have been reduced to 50 cent on cows and 25 cents on bulls, he said.

Cariboo stockmen are being educated in feeding policies, which helped them through last winter, which was long, and feed scarce.

The Brand Act has been amended, he continued, and the B.C. Association is pressing for—and getting—inspection of cattle going through to the Coast.

Helps Cattlemen

Mr. Bulman praised the work of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture, which organization has done more for the cattle industry than for any other primary producers, he said.

The Federation helped the cattlemen in their fight for non-taxation of land for school purposes. Regulations have eased on moving of farm machinery from block to block of land owned by the farmer, in that transportation on highways is now possible by permit, which is free, and without license, except for custom work, Mr. Bulman concluded.

Mr. Bulman urged that everyone concerned get behind the drive to urge increased bounties on predators. He also scored the "too lenient" attitude by judges and magistrates in respect to cattle rustling. He qualified this statement, however, by referring to one recent conviction in Kelowna, involving a deaf-mute, with a small family and in poor circumstances. The Association would most definitely do nothing in a case like this, Mr. Bulman said; but speaking in general terms, the penalties should be such as will be remembered by the offenders.

Officers Returned

The speaker urged a good attendance at the annual meeting of the B.C. Beef Cattle Growers' Association on May 27 in Kamloops.

Election of officers resulted in the present executive of seven being returned on bloc. This was moved by H. Ont, of Lumby, and seconded by J. "Paddy" Hill, of Livingston. Mr. Hill and Mr. Bulman were of the opinion that the executive should be such that it covered a wider area. Nothing came of this suggestion, and those returned to office are: Vernon B. Ellison, Guyana; W. T. J. Bulman, J. Browne, of Kelowna; R. L. Edwards; T. F. Hill, Coldstream; Thorne O'Keefe and R. French, Vernon district. This group elects its own executive from among its number.

Upholds Reputation Spring Skiing Paradise

Star seems to be living up to its reputation as Vernon's spring skiing paradise. With warm, bright sunlight beating down on a settled five snow, Okanagan ski artists are getting their full of thrills and on the excellent slopes of the Star.

Vern Ahrens, Okanagan Ski Zone chairman, led the party from the Orchard City and although handicapped with a bad ankle, he still managed to ski some of the slopes with the others. Mr. Ahrens was injured jumping at the Zone meet held in Summerland.

Tips for Easter Weekend Skiers
Due to the intense light which is reflected from the bright snow, a hat and glasses are required to prevent a severe sunburn. For those who wish to ski along the slopes without a shirt, a suntan lotion is a "must."

To make the climb from the road to the cabin, which takes approximately two hours, a backboard is a needed utensil at this time. Skis should be prepared for the tough uphill trek with a generous application of Kistler wax.

Officials of the Vernon Ski Club have forwarded their suggestions for ski enthusiasts' intending to spend the night on the Star. The list is headed by a sleeping bag and eating utensils, except cooking equipment which is supplied at the cabin.

Holiday Tee-Off Marks Opening of 1949 Golf Season

The initial tee-off, marking the commencement of the 1949 golf season, will be held at 9 o'clock Easter Monday morning. The Nangle Challenge Cup competition will initiate the new campaign. Two-ball mixed foursome matches, with tee-off time at 1:30 p.m. will highlight the afternoon. The day will be climaxed by a social gathering in the evening.

Spectators are welcome to visit the green and witness the performers going through their paces. Anyone wishing to join the Vernon Golf Club is requested to contact any club member. The executive is contemplating a large membership this year which will put the local divot diggers where they belong on the sports calendar in Vernon.

The greens have been developed during the past few weeks and will be in playable condition this afternoon, Thursday. Members and prospective members are welcome to journey to the course and sharpen up their eyes in preparation for the opening day.

Valley Boxla Clubs Plan Season Elect New Officers

—Hear B.C.L.A. View of Mix-Up

"The Vernon Civic Arena is blacklisted from further provincial lacrosse playdowns until a proper statement is received by the B.C.L.A. outlining how the financial set-up of the Vernon-Spokane series was handled and who got the money. Reports to the B.C.L.A. from various persons connected with the series are conflicting." These statements were made by Tom Middleton, of Salmon Arm, at the annual meeting of the Interior Lacrosse Association held in Kelowna on Sunday afternoon. Mr. Middleton is the representative to the B.C.L.A. from the Okanagan zone.

Delegates from Vernon, Kelowna, Kamloops, Salmon Arm and Armstrong boxla clubs along with other interested fans gathered to discuss the 1949 season which promises to be the best campaign witnessed in the Okanagan in years.

The question of the blacklisting of the local arena occupied the spotlight at the affair. R. D. Douglas was the first person to speak about when the past president of the Vernon Tigers was asked to give a report on the B.C.L.A. annual meeting held in Vancouver. Mr. Douglas was the Okanagan delegate at the gathering. "A misunderstanding,"

His report was briefly what took place last season leading up to the action taken by the B.C. body over the Spokane-Vernon series. Mr. Douglas stated: "It started out to be an exhibition series and arrangements were made before the B.C.L.A. stepped in."

Tom Yuill, recently elected president of the Vernon team, carried the point further, declaring the whole thing was a misunderstanding. "The series was slated to be an exhibition, arrangements were made, Spokane was on their way, then the B.C.L.A. stepped in. They should have done this sometime previous," he pointed out.

Mr. Middleton was requested to give his side of the picture as official representative to the B.C.L.A. He pointed out "no individual should make any arrangements after a league winner is declared."

It should have been done through the Interior representative or president who works with the B.C.L.A.

Apparently the situation can only be remedied by the Vernon Arena Commission. According to Mr. Middleton a letter explaining the arrangements made last year is requested by the B.C.L.A. He was not certain whether or not the commission had received official notice of the blacklisting but stated that at the B.C. meeting information was the Vernon arena would be notified immediately following the meeting.

"Concerning the advertisement in the Vernon paper which reported the series at a B.C.L.A. playoff, no one would admit putting in the paper," he added.

President Russ MacEwan then asked the Vernon delegate if the Arena Commission was prepared to give a satisfactory report to the B.C.L.A. Mr. Yuill answered he didn't know but the Vernon executive would look into the matter.

Swans in Annual Stop Over Here

The annual stop-over of several swans en route to their northern nesting grounds this week treated local citizens to a glimpse of perhaps the most beautiful bird in the waterfowl family. Game Warden J. P. C. Atwood reported sighting seven resting at one time on Swan Lake. Others were seen on the north arm of Okanagan Lake and ponds on the Commonage.

"The odd few hang around quite late," said the Game Warden, "but I have never known any to nest in this district." The visitors are of the Whistler variety which are quite common throughout the province and Dominion. Trumpeters are not nearly as plentiful as the Whistler.

A good bunch of water fowl has been seen by the warden in the district lakes and ponds recently. Some stay here and nest here but the majority move into northern areas. Pintails, mallards, baldpates, buffleheads, scaup, American goldeneyes, Barrows goldeneyes, gadwall are some of the water fowl seen in this part of the Valley.

Organize Valley Softball Zone; Sign With B.C. Body

A Valley team will be represented in the 1949 British Columbia softball playdowns. This step was taken when the Okanagan Zone Softball Association decided to affiliate with the provincial body at a meeting held in the Scout Hall on Sunday afternoon.

With over 20 members attending, including the official delegates from Kelowna, Penticton and Vernon, the gathering decided to make the move which would provide better playoffs for the sport fans in Vernon and the Okanagan.

Bud Fraser, of Kelowna, was elected president of the Association and he will name a secretary-treasurer. The presidents of the various city leagues in the four centres will act as an executive.

Mr. Fraser explained the set-up of the B.C.S.A. saying that there are four zones, similar to the Okanagan Zone, in the province. These are: Kootenays, Island, Okanagan and Mainline. After the east and west Kootenay winners are declared, they play off to decide who will meet the Okanagan representatives.

In the Okanagan, Vernon will tangle with Kamloops while Kelowna will meet Penticton in the southern section. The winning

On accepting the position, Mr. MacEwan stated: "I hope everything gets started this year with no grudges and I will do all I can to run things 100 percent." Later in the meeting he said his support for referees this year would be unlimited. "Referees on the floor will control the game and there will be no bickering from coaches or managers."

Four Team City Baseball
League to Start April 28

The 1949 city baseball loop will spurt into action on Tuesday, April 28, when the Timberwolves, last year's Vernon Box nine, clash with Jim's Builders. With four teams in the league, each club will play one game a week. The contests are slated for Tuesday and Thursday nights.

Penticton Goes
Baseball Crazy
Over Caplanos

PENTICTON—Vancouver Caplanos may not have realized it yet, but they've really started something in the Sunny Okanagan this year.

Apart from being the best ambassadors of sports goodwill between Penticton and Vancouver that this city has set eyes on for many a year, they've raised the status of baseball to a very important thing around these parts.

Not always so ball crazy as in the last two weeks, residents of the sunny Valley have been getting more Caplano-conscious every day, and it reached a peak this weekend.

Caplano's mentor, the veteran Bob Brown, went on record last Sunday as saying that he "would very much like to come back to Penticton next year for the spring training camp."

And from Oliver comes the news that the plucky little group of baseball enthusiasts down there are going all out to have the Caps' International League running mates, Victoria, there next year for their training spell.

Within two weeks, the South Okanagan has suddenly attained the full status of a first class professional baseball training ground!

King's Park has now become just about the most important ball park in the B.C. Interior, and all because of the Caplanos!

Skiing Paradise

As far as possible, light foods should be taken on the trip and the quantity should be watched carefully. A general tendency for beginners is to carry more food than is necessary.

On the warm sunny days, skiing is done in shirt sleeves, but a windbreaker is needed when a brisk wind cools off the air towards the end of the day. An extra pair of socks is also suggested.

For the camera fans, the suggestion is yellow filter for good pictures.

Western Canada hockey champions, the Edmonton Waterloo Mercurys were feted at a civic banquet last week upon their return home after winning the Western Canadian Intermediate Hockey Championship in the Okanagan. Mercurys captured the title and the Edmonton Journal Cup four games to one over Melville, Sask. Millionaires in a best of seven final alternated between Kelowna and Vernon arenas.

Herb Gray's 15
Wins Top City
Ping Pong League

Herb Gray, of the Maple Leaf squad, has taken a stranglehold on top place in the individual player's record of the Vernon and District Table Tennis Club. The Leaf captain has performed flawlessly in the first half of the schedule, scoring 15 wins in 15 games played. Tied for the runner-up position are Yo Hamakawa and A. Hamakawa, both of the Nisei Drivers. The sparkplugs of the Japanese team have triumphed in 12 games, while dropping a pair.

With the first half completed on Tuesday of last week, top place in the league standing remains a toss-up. The Maple Leafs and Nisei Drivers are deadlocked with four wins each and a draw gained when the two squads met. The C.Y.O. aggregation occupies third spot with two wins, two losses and a draw, for five points.

How They Score
The winning teams during an evening of play are awarded two points for each match won. A match consists of 10 games, nine singles and one doubles event. Three players in the singles and two performers in the doubles comprise one team. The affairs are a two-out-of-three games competition with games running to 21 points. In the case of a 20-20 count, one team must win two straight points to capture the game.

The league standing at the completion of the first half is as follows:

	P	W	L	D	Pts
Maple Leafs	5	4	0	1	9
Nisei Drivers	5	4	0	1	9
O. Y. O.	5	2	2	1	5
Devon Smashers	5	2	3	0	4
O. C. Y. M.	5	0	3	2	2

Falkland Shuttlers
Win Three Matches
In Westwold Tourney

WESTWOLD, APRIL 11.—Sweeping three victories in five events, the Falkland Junior Badminton Club triumphed over the Westwold Juniors in a local Community Hall on Thursday of last week.

A large crowd from both centres gathered to witness an exceptionally fine brand of shuttle play and give support to their favorites. Following the night's activities, prizes were awarded the winners by Johnny Sawchuk, president of the Westwold Club.

The boys and girls singles were split with Margaret Arkins, of Falkland, scoring a win over Westwold's Betty David in an evenly contested match. Billy Jones evened the count for Westwold winning handsily in the singles.

The boys' doubles went to Falkland when Albert Swift and Ralph Thompson teamed to defeat Billy Robinson and John Struthers in easy style. Doreen Arkins and Georgia Bee, of Falkland, added the girls' doubles to their total when they trounced Rita Abel and Lorraine Whalen.

Refreshments were served following completion of play.

Reports this week of Kalamalka and Swan Lakes indicate that these waters are the best spots for local anglers over the holiday weekend.

On Sunday morning, John Conley, of Vernon, hooked an 11-pounder in Kal Lake and sportsmen have been hauling catches up to ten pounds out of Swan Lake. Smaller bags have been reported from the other surrounding fishing haunts.

The membership of the Vernon Fish, Game and Forest Protective Association has climbed to over 400 in the past two weeks. All sources have not been heard from as yet and executive committees hope that this figure will be doubled before the end of the year.

you the new executive will not let a repetition of this occur. The B.C.L.A. will be notified when a winner is declared and they will handle the playoffs," strongly pointed out Mr. MacEwan.

Following this, the delegates passed a motion whereas the Interior league will abide—by the B.C.L.A. constitution in senior lacrosse and that permission will be asked the B.C.L.A. to dress 18 players until provincial playdowns.

Past president A. Weddell, of Kelowna, reported to the meeting briefly on last year's activities. "The year has been very successful and I trust this season will be even bigger and better."

The chief delegates were asked to give a short summing up of their teams' intentions for 1949. Murray Querns, of Kamloops, explained that the Klippers would have a strong aggregation and finish the season in the new arena. Kelowna and Vernon both followed in the same lines, stating that they would field practically the same lineups as 1948. Earl Wilson, of Kelowna, stated, "we will have the best possible team with no definite bunch of imports." Mr. Yull, of Vernon, said his team would stand pat with last year's lineup.

Not Strong Enough The cart was upset by the Armstrong and Salmon Arm delegates who reported that their teams would not be strong enough to compete with the other clubs. Mr. Middleton suggested making the league Senior A but this idea was quickly squashed.

Len Woods, of Armstrong told the meeting that the only "out" was to have Salmon Arm and Armstrong amalgamate into one team and make the league a four club organization. His alternate was that the Armstrong team would have to drop out and "wait until Kelowna, Kamloops, and Vernon went broke importing players, forcing them to drop back into Armstrong's class."

After considerable discussion the meeting decided to allow Armstrong and Salmon Arm until May 1 to "get together and form one team."

"This year the schedule will see games on the same night each week in the cities. Kelowna spoke for Tuesday nights, Kamloops for Saturdays while the other clubs were undecided."

The schedule committee is as follows: Gordie Bush, Vernon; Ken Watt, Armstrong; Bud Irwin, Kamloops; Percy Matudrell, Kelowna; and Nick Pollohek, Salmon Arm. Mr. Pollohek was appointed chairman of the committee.

Delegates attending the meeting were: Murray Querns and Russ MacEwan, Kamloops; Earl Wilson and Tom Griffiths, Kelowna; Tom Yull and Don Warner, Vernon; Nick Pollohek and Art Leos, Salmon Arm; Len Woods and Ken Watt, Armstrong.

A grant of $15 was voted to the Red Cross campaign. The curling season will be officially brought to a close tonight, Thursday, when a banquet will be held in the Burns Hall commencing at 8:30 o'clock.

Get On the Voters' List

Adults who have assumed residence in British Columbia within the past four and one half years and youths who have come of age in that period are liable to find themselves without a vote in the next election unless they exert a small amount of energy within the near future.

A provincial general election is pending, and broad hints are not lacking that the vote may come before the end of June—less than three months. Premier Johnson, in Vancouver last week, in effect declared that no further sessions of the 21st Legislature are planned.

The influx of population to British Columbia, and particularly to the Interior, means that thousands of people have never voted previously in a provincial election. The last vote in North Okanagan was a by-election in December of 1945, following a few weeks after the general election.

No general enumeration of voters is carried out provincially in a manner similar to the Dominion procedure. That is there is no concerted house to house canvass after the date for voting has been set. Enumeration is done periodically and Vernon was so covered some months ago.

To get on the list is simple enough, however. Required is a visit to the Court House in person, a letter, or even a telephone call.

The approaching provincial election will be a vitally important one. The casting of a ballot means that you have had your say in the kind of administration you want for the next four or five years. The issue in this province is simple. It is nothing less than socialism versus modified free enterprise, an issue significant enough to command every adult's ballot.

Excellent Piece of Work

The majority of British Columbians will applaud the decision reached last week at the convention of the B.C. Liberal Association to continue to support the Coalition administration which has given this province outstandingly good government since 1941.

The convention materially qualified its support by urging the government to adopt the single transferable vote, thus paving the way at some future time for an appeal to the voters of British Columbia on straight party lines.

The procedure adopted, in effect, was to endorse Premier Byron Johnson's plea for a maintenance of coalition for the present at least, including the forthcoming election. Then, presumably at an early session of the Legislature the single transferable vote would be made law. Thus, Liberals, Progressive Conservatives, and C.C.F., would appeal as separate entities. Presumably, if no group secured an overall majority in the voting, coalition again would provide the administration.

It is obviously quite impossible to have coalition between Liberals and Conservatives continued indefinitely upon the basis of what has become known as the "Hart formula." Under this arrangement, only Liberals could be nominated as candidates in ridings previously Liberal and only Conservatives in ridings previously Conservative. Such a scheme is too rigid to last. It fails to take into account shifts in population and changes in voting sentiment, and condemns the Conservatives to a lesser number of ministerial portfolios, including the premiership.

Overcoming extreme party partisanship and enveloping federal entanglements, the convention has done an excellent piece of work, in service to the people of British Columbia. The convention recognized also the dangers inherent in failing to provide the electorate with an alternative vote to socialism, but this was not seized upon as an excuse for pushing partisanship at the expense of the coalition.

The issue now rests with the Conservative party in this province. This group, containing as it does the principal elements most strongly opposed to socialism, has a task of not inconsiderable difficulty. The people of British Columbia will await with interest the party's actions confident that the best interests of the province as a whole will prevail.

Dusk

*This is the silent time of day—
The time when pale pink streaks of light
Lie low along the hill
And darkness has not come.
The time when lighted windows are not warm*

*Against a shadowed night,
But merely yellow, pale, unsure.
A time without perspective,
Without a third dimension:
A time when houses lose their corners
And stand flat beside a
Flatter pine.
A time suspended,
When the world is not pressed hard
Against your mouth
And the earth hangs high
Between the sun and moon.*

Ten Years Ago—Thursday, April 13, 1929.

Ratepayers will go to the polls on Thursday, May 4, to vote on a bylaw to authorize the City Council to borrow $45,000 to provide for a complete new sewerage disposal plant. This was definitely indicated at the City Council this week. With the assent of United Distributors Co-operative Association to the proposed voluntary agreement plan, announced Wednesday at the executive session of the B.C.F.G.A. in Kelowna, central selling for the Okanagan's 1929 fruit crop is assured. Miss Elaine Browne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dolph Browne, has been selected by her school mates to be the Queen of May of this city. Dr. S. Hannah and Art Letroy, with nets of 69 and 76, won the Nangle Cup, 18 holes, medal round, four ball on handicap. First steps in the foundation of a Vernon unit of the Canadian Cancer Society were taken at a Board of Trade meeting here last night. Dr. J. E. Harvey was elected president.

Twenty Years Ago—Thursday, April 18, 1929.

A military training camp is to be carried on in Vernon this year. Arrangements have almost been completed for a central military training camp to be held in Vernon from May 13 to 25. Units attending are expected to be 1st B.C. Mounted Rifles, 5th British Columbia Light Horse, R.M.R., Kootenay Regiment. Total strength will be 450 men and 225 horses. The largest number of votes ever recorded in this city on a money bylaw, on Wednesday gave endorsement to the proposal to guarantee $25,000 of Bulmans Ltd. bonds. There were 325 votes in favor and 195 against. Building plans have been partially prepared in anticipation of passage of the by-law, and $50,000 will be spent here this year on construction. Coldstream municipality and the cities of Armstrong, Enderby and Salmon Arm are again submitting bylaws and agreements with the West Canadian Hydro Electric to ratepayers for their approval. Resubmission of these bylaws is being done to ensure strict legality.

Thirty Years Ago—Thursday, April 17, 1919.

Lieut. F. J. Ball, who recently returned from overseas service, received word on Saturday that he had been appointed to the position of Indian agent for the Okanagan reserves, a post made vacant by the retirement of J. R. Brown. The secretary of the B.C. Traffic and Credit Association reports that the Okanagan is likely to ship from 700 to 1,000 more cars of fruit and vegetables this year than last. The Coldstream Hotel, one of Vernon's oldest hostels, has changed ownership. H. G. Muller has sold this popular house to Messrs. Thorburn and Anderson. Mr. Muller first took charge of the Coldstream in 1891. The dead elms on Barnard Avenue are being removed this week and new trees are being planted in their places. The influenza epidemic does not show much sign of abating, and a number of fresh cases have been reported during the week. Vernon's tax rate this year will probably be 34 mills, the finance committee of the Council announces.

Forty Years Ago—Thursday, April 15, 1900.

Work on the Grey Canal is being vigorously pushed forward these days. Both steam shovels are busily engaged and the work probably will be carried to Swan Lake before the end of the season. The Okanagan Fruit Union has secured the services of E. E. Sampson to act as manager. He was formerly manager of the North Yakima Union, and is considered one of the best men in the business on the Pacific slope. The Bank of Montreal is moving shortly into temporary quarters in W. H. Smith's store, which they will occupy until the new building is ready for use. The present building will be moved across the lane, and when placed in its new position will be occupied by The Vernon News, and the new bank will be built on the site of its present quarters. A. S. Brow returned last week from attending the winding up of the B.C. Central Fruit and Produce Exchange at Revelstoke. Assets are $1,000 and liabilities $13,000.

Fifty Years Ago—Thursday, April 13, 1890.

The fall wheat in the vicinity of Armstrong and Larkin appears to have come through much better than expected, and the percentage of winter kill will be small. In White Valley, also, the crop looks very promising. Potatoes are very scarce this spring and command the high price of $30 a ton. Last spring they were practically of no value and commanded the low price of $7 a ton. Dave Cameron went down to Kamloops last week where he rounded up some of his horses. The Stonewinder mine at Fairview has now 12 feet of a solid ledge of good paying ore and all doubts as to the value of the property are at rest. Fishing in Okanagan and Kalamalka Lakes is again becoming a popular pastime, and some good catches of trout have been reported. The City Clerk reported at Monday's City Council meeting that he had prepared a petition from the ratepayers asking that a waterworks bylaw be submitted, but the City had spoken to oppose the scheme.

MEN OVER 40

The increasing average age of the population is such that in 30 years more than half the nation will be over 45. Yet employment managers are again displaying a tendency to avoid hiring men over 40.

Most Anything

By STUART FLEMING

According to a news story in The New York Times of March 27, the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics is soon to have a fine encyclopedia with which to separate fact from fiction. The word "soon" is used in its comparative sense as the encyclopedia will be available in about six years. This compares with the 21 years that it took to produce the encyclopedia that it will replace. These facts in themselves are not particularly noteworthy but taken in conjunction with the announcement of the project by the chief editors they become somewhat revealing. The editors say:

"The new encyclopedia will show convincingly the superiority of Socialist culture over the rotting culture of the capitalist world, expose imperialist aggression and present party criticism of modern reactionary bourgeois lines in the fields of science, technology and culture." And if that is not enough, the editors feel compelled to announce that, "Bourgeois scientists are forced to distort the results of science, to refuse rational explanations of new facts and betray these for mysticism and idealism. It is necessary to restore the historic truth which was distorted by the bourgeois cosmopolitans. It is necessary to show the achievements of the U.S.S.R. in the fields of economy, science, culture and art—the triumph of Soviet democracy and the further deepening of the general crisis of the capitalist system." All of which, apparently, is supposed to add up to a fine objective state of mind with which to embark upon the relentless search for unemotional fact.

Oh, yes, and let us not overlook the footnote to the announcement. Encyclopedia authors no longer will be paid on a wordage basis since this practice resulted in wordage inflation and low quality. That such crass cupidity should be even thought to exist in man's ideal state!

Well, if the encyclopedia serves no other useful purpose it should be handy as a reference to determine which clichés are in party-line vogue and how best to see ourselves as we are seen.

During the past two years some slight mention has been made here of the complete disregard which Vernon citizens show for the tidiness of Barnard Avenue. Despite all the measures that have been taken to keep the street clean, citizens generally still make very little effort to co-operate. The main street as it appeared Monday morning of this week was all the proof I need for this contention. A day or two ago I received a letter from one of Most Anything's readers who is of the same opinion as myself—that the street can be kept clean and that it need not be made to look like an adjunct of the city dump. Enclosed with the letter was a newspaper clipping that illustrates what can be done to make the public conscious of its responsibilities in this regard. The clipping contains the story of an incident in the travels of a recent American visitor to Sweden:

"The streets and public places are, without exception, beautifully clean. There are no signs to be seen but the trash containers are there and people, all the people, just naturally put their paper and trash into them. I had one good lesson. Coming from a shop I opened a new film I had just bought and in my careless American way tossed the paper in the street. Instantly a man, a stranger, stooped, picked it up and put it where it belonged—in the container. Never again did I offend in that manner while in Sweden."

That incident speaks for itself. The visitor to Sweden is immediately struck by the immaculateness of its cities. He is so impressed that he finds it worthy of comment in relating the story of his travels. The visitor to Vernon might not find our streets any dirtier than those of other cities he visits in Canada but it is certain that he will never be moved to remark on their cleanliness. It is only a little thing, really. It is of no great significance to the future or well being of the town but it would make the city a far better place to live in. What has been done elsewhere, can be done here. At least, it is worth the try.

For my money one of the best things about an evening at the movies is the newsreel. There is just one qualifying factor in my enjoyment of newsreels—Canadian newsreels are by no means Canadian. True, in every issue, several events of particular Canadian interest are recorded but that is about as far as it goes. The commentaries which go along with the scenes are not Canadian in character or spirit and they are read by an American announcer. There is nothing at all distinctly Canadian about them. We are simply fed a warmed-over version of what is prepared specifically for American audiences. Canadian place names often receive most peculiar treatment and without exception a provincial lieutenant-governor always turns out to be a "lootenant" governor. And that's only part of the objection. We're getting to be a big country now. There are certain things we can do for ourselves better than uncle can do them for us. It would happen soon enough if enough Canadians decided they wanted it that way. Then, again, who knows? Maybe they don't.

As the man on the flying trapeze once said, it is not how far you fall that makes the impression. It's how hard you hit.

As Others See Us

Those who are acquainted with British Columbia and its people will be quick to understand what Labor Minister Williams had in mind when he spoke in the Legislature at Regina about what appeared to be a "definite anti-prairie feeling at the Pacific coast."

Many residents of that region, true enough, through the hypnosis they induce in themselves by joining in the brand of boosterism rampant there, seem to end up with the conviction that the fact they have chosen to live at some particular address establishes them as members of a "master race."

In the minds of the more arrogant (and adolescent) British Columbians, all persons elsewhere are almost automatically classified among those Kipling used to describe as "lesser breeds."

It is doubtful, however, whether this attitude is directed particularly at prairie folk, as Mr. Williams seem to think. It is a little more sweeping than that.

The fact is, of course, that former prairie people make up a large proportion of the population of B.C.'s chief centres—so much so that most of its cities would be reduced to minor struggling villages if they were withdrawn. In consequence, if the interpretation of Mr. Williams is correct, it would follow that a great many of those ex-prairies have now fallen into the bad habit of going around shouting, "I hate me," which is a little difficult to believe.

There is also room for questioning another interpretation by Mr. Williams, when he said: "We are referred to as prairie chickens and they themselves say how they love to pluck us."

It is obvious, certainly, that B.C. is a province of extravagant and even irrational optimism, and strongly addicted to engaging in sensational "promotions" which are far more concerned with "plucking" dollars for their promoters than with any unsophisticated notion that value should be given for those dollars. Assuredly the average British Columbia views "plucking" dollars from prairie people as not only a major but a primary industry.

Still, in justice to the British Columbians, it is necessary to tell the other side of the case; they actually seem to get just as much fun out of gypping each other as they do out of gypping outsiders, so long as they are gypping some person.

No matter how you look at it, though, it is a strange land Mr. Williams chose as his topic for discussion.—Prince Albert Herald.

Appeal for Children

Because the need is still great, the United Nations Appeal for Children will be continued in 1940. Voluntary contributions will be sought which will enable the primary program to provide at least one well-balanced, nutritious meal per day for 4,000,000 European and Asiatic children—to be carried out, as well as a project to inoculate with BCG vaccine 15,000,000 children and adolescents, in an anti-tubercular drive.

The Appeal for Children has received support in two ways: by direct contributions from nations, and through the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund, through which money is raised in the different nations supporting the cause on a voluntary basis.

Canada voted $5 million to the fund in 1947, and although none was voted last year, the Canadian representative, to the General Assembly, which met in Paris earlier this year, voted to have the fund continued. And approximately $3 million was raised voluntarily in Canada last year, through business firms, labor unions, farmers' organizations, schools, churches and so on.

Every dollar contributed will give 10 children a glass of milk every day for a week, or buy enough leather for a child's pair of shoes, or enough wool to make a coat, enough cod liver oil for a day's dose for 300 children, or test and vaccinate eight children against tuberculosis.

The fight against hunger and insalubrious medical care for Europe and Asia's children is by no means over. And Canadians, whose records in international affairs have become a notable one, will want to be equally to the fore in the drive to care for needy children.

"I pray the Lord my soul to keep"

Whatever our creed or language, we have all felt the impulse to pray. We may worship in various forms... we may call our God by various names... but, somehow, most of us express our faith in a higher Power. When our loved ones are ailing, we give thanks. At times of confusion or danger we call for guidance. When confronted by a mighty mountain, or the perfection of a tiny snowflake, we are awed by the wonder of life. We teach our children our faith, so that they will not be alone as they face the world.

FAITH is a family affair!

FAITH is not just for holy days. Faith is for every day... at work, at play, in the quiet times the family has together.

We need faith—and never so desperately as today. The world is filled with voices of confusion. It is easy to feel helpless and alone. But faith in a Power outside ourselves can be a bedrock of family unity, a shield for family happiness.

A return to faith can give men and women a broader view of life—a sense of perspective. Then they are better prepared for the give-and-take of family living. The family united in faith has a strong and lasting bond.

Children naturally turn to faith as a daily part of the family life. And when they realize the real meaning of faith, they will be those who express their faith in other ways.

The home atmosphere is far different when the family stops trying to walk alone, when they place in the bigger scheme of things, together for the things it can control—its God for guidance in problems beyond its control. Such a family can't help feeling closer, more sure of itself, happier!

To keep alive the family's faith calls for a plan—just as you plan for your family's welfare. Have your family express its faith in a matter of choice. What is important to you do express it!

Easter Services Will Draw Throngs of City's Devout

Vernon's devout will commemorate the immortal truth of the Resurrection in churches of their choice on Sunday.
 In many places of worship, "canons," "articles" or rules call for corporate worship at various seasons of the year, "of which Easter shall be one."
 Churchgoers of all denominations will keep the great Christian festival according to their creeds and beliefs. From 7 o'clock on Sunday morning, until the quiet "even-song," or vespers, services have been arranged by some or all of the city churches, the hours designed to fit in with other demands which the day makes on citizens.
 Most churches will be decorated to beautify the House of God, and to further demonstrate the message of the Resurrection.

Sunrise Service On Easter Sunday

Designed for those people whose churches do not sponsor early morning devotions, is the Sunrise Service in Polson Park on Easter Sunday. It will commence at 8 o'clock, and last an hour. Sponsored by the Vernon Ministerial Association, it is undenominational in character. This will be the fourth such observance, the services having been originated by H. E. McCall in 1946. Rev. Theo T. Gibson heads the committee in charge of arrangements, and will lead the service. Miss Julia Reckie will play the organ.
 A medley of Easter carols by trumpeter Tommy Muir will open the service. After the call to worship, the hymn, "Holy, Holy, Holy; Lord God Almighty," will be sung, followed by responsive scripture reading. Rev. R. J. White will lead in prayer, after which "Welcome, Happy Morning," will be sung by the congregation. Rev. R. J. Gillanders will read the scripture lesson, with Salvation Army Major George Crewe giving the address. After the hymn: "Jesus Christ is Risen Today; Hallelujah!" Rev. E. Jeske will pronounce Benediction.

For those people whose church does not provide early morning worship, an undenominational sunrise service has been arranged in Polson Park, commencing at 8 a.m., for one hour.
 To many people, Easter and its truths are the climax of Good Friday. For those persons who observe that day in the religious sense, tomorrow, there are services in St. James' Roman Catholic Church; All Saints Anglican Church; St. John's Lutheran Church, and at the Salvation Army.
 There will be a children's service tomorrow, Good Friday, at All Saints' Church; a service of matins and an address at 11:00 a.m., and from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. the abbreviated "three hour service," with evensong at 7:30 p.m.
 The Seventh Day congregation will hold its regular worship on Saturday, when there will also be services at St. James' Roman Catholic Church, and at 7:30 p.m. in All Saints' Church.

At Lumby—There will be a service of Holy Communion at 9:30 a.m. on Easter Sunday, at the Anglican Church of St. James the Less, in Lumby.
 On Easter Sunday, there will be Holy Communion at 7:00 and 8:00 a.m. with matins and Choral Holy Communion at 11:00 a.m. Evensong is at 7:30 p.m.
 Vernon United Church—Two sessions of morning worship will be held in Vernon United Church; one at 9:30 o'clock with the Junior Choir leading the service and the sermon on the "Easter Message" by Rev. G. W. Payne. The 11 o'clock service will be a duplication of the earlier worship, except that the senior choir will lead the singing. Mr. Payne asks that as many as possible attend the 9:30 worship. At 2:30 p.m. there will be Sunday School open worship, "Transforming the Cross." This is a very colorful and appealing manner of presenting the truth of the resurrection, and parents and friends are invited. At 7:30 p.m. special music by the choir, with poetry and meditation will be included in Evening Vespers.
 Salvation Army—There will be a Good Friday service in the Citadel tomorrow morning, at 10:15, for those persons who wish to observe the religious aspect of the day, but whose churches hold no regular services. Rev. R. J. Gillanders will give the message. Assisting will be Rev. G. W. Payne of the United Church; Rev. R. J. White, of Elim Tabernacle, and Rev. Theo T. Gibson, of First Baptist Church.
 On Easter Sunday, there will be regular services at the usual times morning and evening, with an Easter program at 3 p.m. in the Citadel, put on by Sunday School pupils, to which parents and friends are invited. Musical numbers and readings will dwell on the story of the Resurrection.
 "Christ Risen"—At Knox Presbyterian Church all services will conform to the Easter pattern. There will be Sunday School at 11 a.m.; evening service at 7:30 p.m., when the pastor, Rev. R. J. Gillanders, will speak on "Christ Risen," taking as his text: "The Third Day He Rose Again from the Dead," the fourth address in a series on the Apostles' Creed.

Junior Choir Inaugurated At Anglican Church Here

Last Sunday, Palm Sunday, marked the inauguration of All Saints' Anglican Church Junior Choir, comprised of 10 boys and 20 girls. Their vestments of cassocks and surplices were augmented by neck ruffs, in the case of the boys, and by black beanies for the girls.
 They led the procession of the senior choir at the 11 a.m. service, singing the Palm Sunday hymn, "All Glory, Laud and Honor." Four boys and four girl choristers carried palm branches, received by Rev. L. A. C. Smith, and placed on the altar.
 Mrs. A. G. Fullford, assisted by her daughter, Miss R. Fullford, has been training the girls, with Mrs. G. R. Hopping and Mrs. P. A. France training the boys.
 The Junior Choir will take part in Easter Sunday services, and also those of April 24.

Much Activity By Members of Enderby Anglican Church

ENDERBY, April 11.—Members of the St. George's Anglican W.A. held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. A. Stillwell recently when plans were made for the home cooking and fancy work sale to be held in the Parish Hall on April 27. A plant stall also will be arranged. Tea will be served.
 The members are attempting to raise sufficient money for their quarterly donations which they give to the church committee. Conveners are: fancywork, Mrs. F. Brash; home cooking, Mrs. Stillwell; flowers and plants, Mrs. R. Rime; tea, Mrs. T. Kneale. Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. Taylor.
 Members of the sanctuary guild of St. George's Church have been busy in preparation for a "cleaning bee" which they are holding today, Thursday, so as to have the church and grounds in readiness for the Easter services. Suitable decorations are being arranged in the church for the Easter theme.
 At the last regular meeting of the church committee, a suggestion was that Maundy Thursday should be set aside for calling upon all (Continued on Page 12)

Human or Christian?

By REV. L. A. C. SMITH
 "To err is human." At least, that is what Pope wrote in his "Essay on Criticism." To err is, of course, to miss the mark, either by falling wide or short of the mark. An inexperienced marksman knows this all too well, but as he gains more experience and applies himself more diligently to study and training, so does he err less often in his marksmanship.
 So often, in order to cover up inexperience, laziness, or indifference, people say, "Well, after all, I am only human." And so, they are tempted to an attitude of uneasiness and laissez-faire, for after all, they say, a human being is only human and it is natural to err a bit here and there.
 This so-called tolerance or broad-mindedness can be vicious, for it affects the individual's whole approach to life, and discourages him from vigilance against those weak spots or "blind spots" where erring is commonly human.
 This is just where the Christian approach to life is very pertinent, for it is the Christian claim that a human being has the possibility of being more than human. If it be true that man is created in the spiritual image of God, and that God so loved the mankind which He had created that He gave His only Son, Jesus Christ, to die on the Cross to save men from their sins, their erring, then it is the divine purpose that a human being become something more than human. He is to be human, plus.
 The events of Good Friday and Easter which are so fresh in our minds at this time of the year were rendered necessary in the Divine purpose, just because of man's resignation to the false idea that it is human or natural to err. Jesus suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, dead and buried, and rose again the third day precisely (Continued on Page 12)

Crucifixion Story In Word and Song At Salvation Army

The joys and sorrows of Jesus Christ, which culminated in the Crucifixion, will be described in song and narrative by the singing company of the Salvation Army congregation tomorrow evening, Good Friday, in the Citadel at 8 o'clock.
 The presentation is entitled "The Voice of the Cross," and those taking part, who are a "teen-age group," will be in costume.

Book of Common Prayer in Use For 400 Years

Anglicans throughout the world will observe June 19 in recognition of the 400th anniversary of the Book of Common Prayer. The book was first used in 1549.

The observance was suggested by last year's Lambeth Conference of Anglican Bishops. The Conference described the book as a bond of union for the whole world-wide Anglican communion.

Kelowna Completes Red Cross Campaign With $15,000 Total

KELOWNA—When the current Red Cross campaign is officially closed, final figures will probably reveal that Kelowna outstepped the entire province... possibly the whole dominion for that matter. According to the complete list released Monday by E. R. F. Dodd, campaign manager, every local district exceeded the original quota.

Total of $15,243.67 was raised in Kelowna and district. Quota set by provincial Red Cross campaign officials was $12,000.

Baptist Young People's Meet Here on Monday

On Easter Monday afternoon, the Young People's Societies of all Baptist churches in the Okanagan, south to Kaleden, will converge on the First Baptist Church, Vernon for the annual spring Rally.

This is the first time the Vernon Society has been host for some years; the local society having advanced from one of the smallest, to one of the strongest, groups in the Valley since 1947.

The first session is at 2 o'clock with strong emphasis to be placed on fellowship and participation by the assembly. Experienced leaders will open discussion on the Young People's Society's part in three fields: "Helping the Local Church," "Winning new Christians," and "Developing Missionary Service."

An innovation will be the "town meeting" type of forum, with each Society being represented in unrehearsed discussion around the table before the subject is open to the audience.

A banquet will be served in the lower hall of the Church at 5:30 p.m., at which pictures will be shown of a number of young people's camps sponsored all over Western Canada by the Baptist Union.

The evening session opens early for the convenience of those who come from a distance. A 15 minute singing will precede the main program at 7:30 p.m., in which devotional features will be conducted by visiting young people.

The chief speaker will be Rev. J. J. Smithson, recent chairman of the Baptist Christian Education Committee of B.C., now First Baptist Church pastor in Kelowna.

The young people's choir at Grace Baptist Church, Kelowna, has been invited to bring special music.

Miss Mary Stroud, president of the Vernon Baptist Young People's group, is chairman of the committee for arrangements.

A. E. "Dol" Grauer

President of the B.C. Electric, Mr. Grauer will be guest speaker at the Graduation Day ceremonies of the Leadership Training School, Naramata, tomorrow, Friday. In addition to a lengthy and brilliant business career, Mr. Grauer has achieved a number of affiliations such as member of the Senate for the University of British Columbia and president of the Vancouver Symphony Orchestra.

At Elm Tabernacle

Easter and its truths will be subjects taken by Rev. R. J. White at 11:00 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. at the Elm Tabernacle. Topic in the morning is "Easter Dawn," and in the evening, "God's Acre, and the Resurrection." There will be Sunday School and Bible Class at 10:00 a.m.

A season of remarkable growth in the size of morning congregations is expected to culminate Easter Sunday morning in First Baptist Church at 11:00 a.m. Rev. Theo T. Gibson will take his sermon title from a solo to be sung by Miss June Wiffen, "God's Tomorrow." The boys and girls will have their own extra sermon-story. The choir, trained and directed by Miss Julia Reekie who is also organist, will sing Easter anthems at morning and evening services, including George Wevin's arrangement of Charles Wesley's hymn, "Rejoice, the Lord is King," and the French traditional Easter Carol "O Sons and Daughters, let us Sing." The evening service at 7:30 will feature instrumental music by Michael Block.

On Saturday

A teacher's meeting at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday will open the day's devotions for the Seventh Day Adventists, followed by Sabbath School at 10:00 a.m. and a Rally for Missions at 11:30 a.m. At 3:45 p.m. there will be a Young People's Hour.

Human, Christian?

for the purpose of making it possible for human beings to have the power and grace which are in Him. By this power and grace man is both challenged and enabled to rise from the weaknesses and erring of mere humanity to the moral and spiritual strength which is super-human, because it is founded in Jesus Christ, the Son of God, and Son of Man.

Thus it was possible for St. Paul to bear faithful witness to his crucified Lord and attain great spiritual heights. "I can do all things through Christ Who strengtheneth me." That is the secret of the super-human points in his life. And what is true of St. Paul is true for all mankind.

The approach to life in the once-popular son, "Doin' what comes natur'ly" is most unworthy of any of the children of God in Christ. Some functions of the human being are shared with the animal kingdom. Man was created that way. He has also certain potentialities of moral goodness and spiritual achievement. Man misses the mark when he gives in to moral and spiritual laxities and carelessness, for in Christ Who not only died but rose again to save mankind from his human erring, man is to be motivated and enabled to become super-natural. He is to live a Godly, Christ-like life. In Christ, man is able to be a partaker in the new life which is his eternal destiny.

Christians are those who are called to be God's supermen in the world, militating against evil things and ideas, and helping the risen and ever-living Lord to build up His Kingdom—an unearthly and heavenly kingdom where all are destined to be not only human brothers, but brothers in Christ.

For the last three months, a choir of boys and girls has been trained by the vicar. In their first performance, the boys and girls will lead the singing at Easter services.

Plural Marriage No Longer Exists Among Mormon People

In a story on the church page of last week's issue of The Vernon News, an omission was inadvertently made. In the article on the Church of Jesus Christ Latter Day Saints, the opening sentence read: "Emphatically denying the popular supposition that marriage still exists among their people..." It should have read: "Emphatically denying the popular supposition that plural marriage still exists among their people..." Plural marriage in the Mormon Church has not been practiced since 1890.

Realized at Kelowna "20 Year Dream" Now

KELWNA—Twenty years of striving to develop a civil airfield is about to be realized.

The Ellison field, located 10 miles north of Kelowna on the Vernon Road, is just about ready for full-scale operations, and within the next few days, modern facilities will be available for all visiting aircraft. Already the Okanagan Air Services has moved to the field, and a modern hangar, capable of storing three aircraft, has been constructed.

Donates Three Acre Block Of Land to Westwold F.I.

WESTWOLD, April 11.—Ben Buhler was elected president of the Westwold branch of the Farmers' Institute at the group's recent annual meeting with Fred Becker as vice-president and Robert Clementson named secretary-treasurer. The board of directors for the ensuing year is: H. E. Talbot, Harold Culling, Ted Elliot, William Malcolm and R. Black.

A letter from J. A. Pringle was read in which he stated his desire to convey title of a three-acre block of land to the F.I. This lot is to be used solely as a community recreation area and ball field. The land lies immediately west of the school grounds.

Members present felt that such a gift to the district was tangible evidence of Mr. Pringle's real interest in the young people and in organized sport here. The community's appreciation in acceptance of the offer was expressed in a letter from the secretary.

A protest is to be forwarded to the Department of Public Works with a resolution requesting that the Douglas Lake Road be repaired and made suitable for the proposed school bus to serve adequately the pupils living in that area.

Several farmers requested the Institute to buy some alfalfa seed for their needs this spring.

The financial statement showed assets of $137 aside from the hall account.

After considerable discussion, a flat rent of $2 per night for ordinary functions and sports activities was set for the hall. This policy was adopted to provide funds for maintenance and lights, and to permit those using the hall to budget their expenses more accurately.

The retiring president, Evander McLeod, thanked the members, especially the secretary, for support and co-operation during the year, and extended his best wishes to the incoming officers. He felt that much could be done to benefit materially the farmers by the members working as a group through their local, provincial and national channels of the farmers' organizations.

Armstrong Court I.O.O.F. Hears B.C. Manager

The Armstrong Court of the Independent Order of Foresters at its regular meeting on Monday of last week heard an address from W. W. Attwood, provincial manager of the I.O.O.F., who has recently moved the provincial offices to Kelowna. Mr. Attwood has been organizing Forestry throughout the Okanagan and, with the help of the Armstrong court, first organized in 1898, plans to re-organize in the Armstrong district.

The speaker congratulated the Armstrong members who have carried on for so many years. He spoke of the work of present-day Forestry which represents the largest insurance society in the world. The society embodies protection in the home, financial aid for members stricken with cancer and tuberculosis, private home care for orphaned children of members, and adequate care for elderly members in need.

Mr. Attwood touched on the work that courts of the I.O.O.F. are doing in community life, getting behind local drives and various other activities. He explained how the organization of 160,000 members had contributed $16,000 some months ago to purchase food parcels distributed among members of Forestry in England.

The Armstrong members, a number of whom have been with that court since 1902, pledged their support to Mr. Attwood and Art Kemp, chief ranger, who will take over duties as deputy in the district in the proposed rebuilding and reorganization of the court.

Ok. Centre Veteran Buried On Saturday

OKANAGAN CENTRE, April 11.—Funeral services were conducted on Saturday by Rev. A. R. Leith, of Oyma, under the auspices of the Canadian Legion, for an old soldier, Frederick Percy Dawson, 87, who died at his home at Okanagan Centre on Thursday of last week. Mr. Dawson's health had not been good for some time.

Born in Burton-on-Trent, England, in 1882, Mr. Dawson was attached to the Lancashire Fusiliers for 12 years, seeing service in Malta, prior to coming to Canada in 1909. He then served with the Canadian Army Pay Office in Quebec for a few years, and was attached to the Canadian Army Service Corps in Winnipeg between 1914 and 1918.

Mr. Dawson and his family came to Okanagan Centre in 1920. Later he was employed on the office staff of the Winoka Co-operative Association.

Besides his wife, Mr. Dawson is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Brian Cooney; one granddaughter, Mavourneen Cooney; both of Okanagan Centre; one brother at the Coast; also two brothers and one sister in Winnipeg, Man.

Potato Men at Salmon River to Have Field Day

SALMON VALLEY, April 11.—Members of the Salmon River Valley Potato Growers' Association held their meeting at the school house on Wednesday evening of last week, to discuss plans for the ensuing year. They decided to hold a Field Day in July. The election of officers resulted as follows: R. C. Freeze, president; E. Schweb, vice-president; and A. D. Heywood, secretary-treasurer.

Spring work on the land will be quite general this week as the fields have dried out considerably during the past few days.

R. C. Freeze received the nomination as C.O.F. candidate for the Salmon Arm riding, at a nominating convention held at Salmon Arm on Sunday.

Canary Masters Word Lessons Given Lovebird

KAMLOOPS. — Joey, a little green canary, has astounded his owner, Mrs. M. Collier, of Haney.

The first shock came when the canary announced: "Joey wants to talk."

He mastered lessons intended for a love bird—in another cage.

The budgie hasn't said a word, but Joey has become quite a chatterer, says Mrs. Collier.

Cattle Disease Requires Prompt Vaccination

Dr. Wallace R. Gunn, B.C. Live Stock Commissioner and Chief Veterinary Inspector, advises this week that the second outbreak of malignant edema has recently been uncovered in the Hat Creek area.

A few weeks ago a similar outbreak in the Heffley Creek district was found by Veterinary Inspectors of the Live Stock Branch, Department of Agriculture.

This condition usually appears associated with blackleg, and can be easily confused with blackleg, Dr. Gunn states. It is a highly fatal disease and calls for protective vaccination, which should be regularly repeated each year, he warns.

The mixed bacteria which will give protection both against malignant edema and blackleg can be procured, and Dr. Gunn suggests that stockmen immediately take note of this situation, and move to protect their livestock by prompt vaccination.

In the early days of the telephone, the instruments were often leased in pairs, permitting two stations to talk to each other but to no-one else.

Canadian fishery scientists are able to determine the age of eels by the number of rings on the scales which are embedded on the skin.

"Eat beef," Dr. F. W. B. Smith told the annual meeting of the North Okanagan Beef Growers' Association, held at Coldstream Ranch on Friday evening, from "the healthiest livestock on the North American continent."

Speaking of the Okanagan: "You have here the best and healthiest cattle in the wide world," he declared.

"Adam," continued the dynamic and versatile speaker, "lived to be 900 years old. What did he eat? ... Flesh!"

"Moses, on the other hand, only lived to be 120 years old. He," continued the speaker, "lived on grass." This brought roars of laughter and prolonged applause from the large audience.

Dr. Smith said the world needs more proteins. "But there are not enough proteins to feed the world." If something is wrong with you, "feed on proteins ... that's what you are made of. Where do you find proteins? ... in beef steaks!"

Asks Full Co-operation.
Turning to the serious side of his address, which he came to Vernon especially to give to the North Okanagan stockmen, Dr. Smith urged 100 percent co-operation in making this district a T.B.-free area.

Dr. Smith declared that he has had almost 35 years' experience in cattle diseases with the Federal Government. "So I know when I see healthy cattle, and you've got them here!" But to be certified as a T.B.-free area is essential to the business; one angle being that animals can be shipped wherever required without delay.

The speaker emphasized that T.B. control cost the farmer very little. If an animal is found to be T.B. infected, the stockman is compensated.

Calling all artists! The committee of the "Vernon Group of Artists" is sponsoring an exhibition to be held for four days of the Vernon Okanagan Industrial Exposition in Arts and Crafts Hut Number 22, on May 11, 12, 13 and 14. The well known artist, B. C. Blum, of the Vancouver Art School staff, has consented to act as judge.

All artists in the Okanagan Valley are asked to send in some work, and do all possible to make this initial jury exhibition in the Okanagan Valley an outstanding success.

The rules and regulations which follow govern the exhibition, and are, in the main, those used by the Vancouver Art Gallery.

All works must reach Vernon not earlier than May 5, and not later than May 7.

Each artist may send in three works.

The exhibition will be grouped in the following classifications: oil, watercolor, pastel, black-and-white, sculpture, modelling, pottery. Entries need not be limited to one classification. Only original work will be accepted, and copies cannot be considered. All work should be of recent date, and no picture should be less than 12 inches as the smallest dimension. This size applies to pictures, exclusive of mat and frame. Graphic work is excluded from this regulation.

For further information and entry forms, entrants are asked to apply to the secretary of the Vernon Group of Artists, Miss E. Coles, 3332 Barnard Avenue, Vernon. Miss J. Topham Brown is chairman of the Vernon Group committee.

Five Centuries of Style In Fashion Pageant Here

The Women's Hospital Auxiliary and Girl Guide Association are sponsoring a "Pageant of Fashion," in the Burns Hall on Thursday afternoon, April 28.

This pageant is receiving an enthusiastic reception from coast to coast, and is a story of style illustrated by 12 exquisitely-gowned miniature mannequins 18 inches tall, dressed in authentic fashions that glamorized the past 500 years, beginning with the Renaissance and progressing through the years right up to the present day.

The headwear, hair style, lingerie, jewellery and costume worn by each of the mannequins is an exact replica of that worn by the women of the periods they represent, and each is described in detail.

The lecture has been eagerly received by women's clubs, educational organizations and church groups throughout Canada and is of one hour's duration.

The Girl Guide Association is combining with the Women's Hospital Auxiliary in the sale of tickets, and proceeds will be divided between these two groups. Tickets will include afternoon tea, conveyed by Mrs. Eric Olmstead.

Mrs. A. N. McDougall and Miss Phyllis Shaw, Auxiliary members, are in charge of ticket sales.

B. and P.W. Club Raises $150 from Rummage Sale

Members and friends of Vernon Business and Professional Women's Club cleared out their bureau drawers and clothes closets to good avail last weekend, supplying wares for the rummage sale on Saturday afternoon in Burns Hall.

Miss Agnes Conroy was general convener, with Mrs. M. Jones, co-convener. The committee included Mrs. M. H. C. Beaven, Miss Lee Jhanke and Miss Vivian Harbord. Assisting the club were Mrs. C. LeBlond, Mrs. R. W. McIndoe, Mrs. Stuart J. Martin and Mrs. A. W. Thompson.

Approximately $150 was cleared from the undertaking, with proceeds to be used for club projects.

A large crowd patronized the sale, and some excellent bargains were available. Articles were in exceptionally good condition, and patrons saw many possibilities in the suits, coats, dresses and a large variety of articles offered for sale at a fraction of their value, for spring sewing and renovation.

Half Million Dollars Sent Overseas by Jr. Red Cross

The part which children are playing in alleviation of suffering through the Junior Red Cross is demonstrated by figures released on Monday by Miss Margaret Palmer, of the B.C. Division Junior Red Cross Society, who stated that more than half a million dollars have been sent since the war overseas.

Two further projects have been approved by the National Executive Committee from the National Junior Red Cross Service Fund.

One is the expenditure of $1,500 to send 10 child patients from the Villeparisis Home for Mutilated Children in France, to Roehampton, in England, to be fitted with artificial limbs. The cost is $150 for each child. There are 58 children in this home, started by the French Red Cross. Funds have been provided to send several of the children to Roehampton already, and this sum of money from the Junior Red Cross will now send another 10.

The expenditure of $12,500 to bring 50 pre-tuberculosis children from countries affected by the war to Switzerland for four months' treatment is the second project. The cost for each child is $250. The Swiss Red Cross has already done much of this work, and has cared for children from several countries, but they are unable to cope with the numbers of children who need the food, rest and mountain air that are provided in Switzerland.

Lone Visiting Swan Popular With Lavington Children

LAVINGTON, April 11.—An unusual visitor to the Lavington district this week was a lone swan, which alighted among weeds in a shallow pool of water on Frank Watson's property. The children were greatly interested in the big bird. Game Warden J. P. C. Atwood was notified, but he explained that in the past few years, a swan has often become separated from the flock and landed in a small pond. Eventually these errant birds join their mates on the large lakes.

TWO PROVINCES THAT ARE AN Empire!

SOMETIMES we two million people who live in British Columbia and Alberta need to remind ourselves how great an empire is ours . . . and how fast it can grow.

Well, bundle up California; Texas, Oregon and Washington and you have an area just about the same size as B.C. and Alberta.

Those wealthy states with their 21,500,000 people; their oil, cattle, fruit farms, forests and fisheries were just as lonely and desolate once as only the wilderness can be. Hard-working, imaginative, venturesome people pioneered them . . . made them what they are today.

It's that same kind of energetic, chance-taking people we must depend on to develop British Columbia and Alberta.

Like Texas, Alberta has oil and natural gas. It raises livestock and has rich farm lands. But Alberta has some things a Texas doesn't possess. Coal enough to last for a thousand years to come. Timber, too, and water power. Inland fisheries. An abundance of water for irrigation.

BRITISH COLUMBIA FEDERATION OF TRADE & INDUSTRY

British Columbia, like California, Washington and Oregon, has fisheries, vast softwood forests, fertile valleys, scenery and climate. But beyond that British Columbia has mineral wealth unmatched in the Pacific Coast states and it has the largest undeveloped water power sites awaiting industry in the Western half of North America. This power may bring to British Columbia a great aluminum industry . . . possibly two great aluminum cities between Vancouver and Prince Rupert.

With all the brilliant promise of growth that exists in British Columbia and Alberta, no young Canadian should have to go abroad to find opportunity.

But if opportunities and jobs are to be developed, venture money must flow into our two provinces. The risk money has been coming. It has made jobs for the quarter of a million new citizens British Columbia has attracted in the past twelve years. It will continue to come if we in British Columbia really want it, and will give it as good a chance as it would get anywhere else in North America.

Most of us can look back on the days when we made our own bread. Some, more power to them, still do.

Years ago, no one was quite sure how bread was going to "turn out." So much depended on temperature, that one wonders why housekeepers didn't invest in a couple of thermometers, one for the liquids and another for the room. But as most bread was made in the good old "set overnight" method, that wouldn't have been any good, either, as if the fire went out, as it invariably did, or the temperature dropped, as was often the case, the pampered hot-house-like sponge shrank in the cooling room.

Utmost Care
Other members of the household were warned not to walk across the floor with a heavy tread; not to open doors into the sacred precincts wherein the swathed bread pans with their contents were costily ensconced; not to open the oven door before a given time; and not to cut off even the thinnest crust off the warm loaf.

There is no more homey smell than home-baked bread. Nothing more delicious, either. Diverting for a moment, I remember now a young soldier who used to frequent our office during the last war when he had nothing better to do, who one day said his mother back on the prairie had sent him one of her home-made loaves in her usual parcel.

A kitchen I used to know very well, with a grey floor and light blue walls and a jar of Okanagan sunflowers on the window-sill, with fresh bread cooling on the kitchen table under a snowy cloth, was one of the most desirable places I was ever in. There wasn't much money in that home, either, but it didn't seem to matter.

Won a Place

The good break beaker was in a class by herself. She wore her laurels proudly, and they were well earned. She was the equivalent to a gold medalist, to the winner of a trophy, to the owner of a by-line. She was held up in the community as a perfect housewife. At fair-time, she always emerged with red or blue ribbons, and the dream of every bride worth her salt in the district was to one day achieve the zenith of perfection achieved by Mrs. Blank with her marvelous bread. No one ever heard about her inevitable failures, whereas the little bride in her disappointment and bitterness made no secret of the fact that her bread was such a failure that even the chickens wouldn't eat it.

Those people who had bread-mixers were looked upon as spoilt by new fangled gadgets. The real break makers were the women who got down to work, up to their elbows in flour, putting goodness knows how many pounds of energy and a lot of guesswork into kneading up the dough.

Guesswork
The recipes said to soak a yeast-cake in a cup of warm water. There is a world of difference in cups, especially on a farm. You were then told to make a batter with a pint of water and sugar, plus the dissolved yeast. No one told you how much flour to put in. When that was light, it was added to a given number of quarts of water, shortening, salt and enough flour to make a dough which could be handled. If it was too soft, it rose too easily and flopped over the edges of the pan by morning; if it was too solid, trouble of another kind was in store.

The mixing pan figured in the picture. Often this was just the dishpan, rinsed around of course. In it the flour was warmed, placed on the oven door after measuring, and gently stirred from time to time. A "well" was made in the middle into which the foaming yeast mass was poured, and then an undetermined amount of water added slowly.

When the bread was moulded into loaves early in the dewy morn, or maybe a zero morning, it was covered with a towel and left to rise.

If all went well the results would tempt a king off his throne. The owner of the grey and blue kitchen would cut up a lovely golden brown crusty loaf for her children's "pieces" when they came home from school.

"Boughten Bread"
When the local emporium carried "bakers' bread," the housewives who patronized this delicacy were said to be shiftless, lazy and extravagant by everyone but the storekeeper. Other housekeepers secretly envied them, however, as kneading bread was no picnic.

Then there were the snobs the flour came in. These were as intimate, intricate and as essential a piece of Canadian economy as the setting up of the nine provinces. No single item will ever be as universally used in Canadian homes, as was this flour sack in past decades. It has been bleached and manufactured into every known piece of household linen and wearing apparel, and its long-wearing qualities made the time put in on preparing it for this purpose, worth while.

Numerous methods were used for bleaching. Some women boiled the sacks, others soaked them in cold water, still more rubbed coal oil on the print, some scrubbed them with a brush on the washboard with plenty of soap, others put them out of doors to bleach. But in spite of all these endeavors, many a now prominent Canadian has gone to school with the faint insignia of the country's leading flour mills still visible on the back of his little shirt.

Multiple Uses

Some housekeepers saved the sacks and spent a good half day fussing with them. Others took each sack as it was emptied and tackled the print problem. There was even the string they were sewn up with. There was a definite rule unravelling this: with the plain side held facing one. In the depression years, and even before that, linen cupboard were stocked with sacks. "When I get one more sack, I shall have two pairs of pillowslips," the housewives used to brag. Let no one think slightly either of the crocheted-edged pillowslips and shams made from sacks, or the little table covers stitched with colors, with a spray of flowers embroidered in the corners, the origin of all being flour sacks.

Women at fairs used to compete as to their ingenuity with sacks. I have travelled around a good many fair fairs, and have seen sacks embroidered, smocked, hem-stitched, dyed and otherwise camouflaged until the most discerning judge would have a hard time to tell which was the most desirable or praiseworthy entry, or a layman determine their origin.

Of recent years, entries in the thrift classes at fairs, including the class for articles made from flour sacks have fallen off. At one fair I attend every fall there has been no such class for two years. Is this a sign of the times, of "fair weather" and more plentiful cash?

When on the train, travelling through the lonely country areas which stretch for hundreds of miles between cities, I always think that the pioneer spirit still lives, when we pass isolated clearings with a little house, a bit of garden, the inevitable out-of-door plumbing prominently displayed, and the short clothes line on which hangs a bleaching flour sack.

This column was intended to be a preamble to a conducted tour of a modern bakers which I enjoyed the other day. There, men tend machinery and gently handle the weighed and kneaded pieces of dough, hitherto laboriously turned out by Canadian housewives. This will have to wait until next week. Modern machinery and devices have combined to give women time to contribute in new ways to the Canadian pattern.

Anglican Guilds Raise $300 at Easter Bazaar

A sunny spring afternoon, combined with the knowledge that attractive articles would be for sale and a pleasant social time in prospect, were contributing factors to the success of All Saints' Anglican Church Easter bazaar, held in the Parish Hall on Saturday, Mrs. L. R. H. Nash, president of the Senior Parochial Guild, was general convener of the affair. Afternoon tea was a project of the Junior Guild, and convened by Mrs. R. G. Birch.

Approximately $300 was raised by the whole undertaking. The affair was opened with a prayer, and congratulatory remarks by Rev. L. A. C. Smith.

Various features included a stall of needlework; a plant stall, and home cooking stall. A group of women, which sews and knits for the Guild at Okanagan Landing under the convener'ship of Mrs. C. C. Gray, contributed a number of articles, sold by Mrs. Gray.

Another women's group from Swan Lake, under the leadership of Mrs. W. Hackman, donated a set of luncheon dishes. These were a prize for a competition, and won by Mrs. F. G. deWolf.

A dressed doll, donated by Mrs. H. R. Denison, was won by Robert Sterling. Two cakes were also donated and awarded as prizes in contests.

Mrs. A. G. Fullford looked after a candy stall, which was well patronized. Proceeds from this undertaking were put towards materials for vestments for the Junior Choir.

Mrs. H. deBeck convened a second-hand book stall, which was a new feature, and popular with the crowd.

The tea tables were centred with Easter egg decorations, and the spring theme was used throughout.

More Effort Needed to Get Enderby Red Cross Quota

ENDERBY, April 11.—If Enderby is going to complete its objective in the Red Cross campaign, more effort will have to be made. This is the consensus of opinion from Enderby and district canvassers who so far have collected only $850, just over half of the $1,200 quota. However, a few more canvassers have still to report with Orindrod and Mara donations not yet in.

Larry Ackroyd, field representative for the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, addressed the Enderby Board of Trade at its regular meeting on Wednesday of last week. The working of the Board of Trade, membership, and building up of membership were themes of his speech.

Speaking of membership, Mr. Ackroyd said he felt the majority of organizations set their membership fee too low. A high fee made members realize the value of the organization and made them more interested in keeping up that value.

An occasional "smoker" was suggested as a means of enticing members to meetings. This, together with short speeches from guest speakers, would serve as a drawing card.

Get Farmers to Join
Mr. Ackroyd stressed that valuable benefits could be gained by farmers joining the Board of Trade. In many cases, farmers' opinions are not listened to but if these farmers joined the Board of Trade, their ideas and plans would be heard and possibly put into effect.

Jack Smith, manager of a local sawmill, reports that approximately 25,000 feet of logs are being cut per day. Around May 24, or June 1, several million feet of logs will be floated down the Shuswap River in a drive to be cut at the Enderby mill. Logs for the drive have been cut in the Mabel Lake area.

General outlook for the year is that although prices will be down somewhat from last year, demand will be up slightly, making sales favorable. There are 25 men employed in the Enderby mill with work getting into full swing.

Mrs. E. N. Peel, regent of the Sir Douglas Haig Chapter, I.O.D.E., left on Saturday for Vancouver where she is attending the provincial annual meeting of the I.O.D.E. Mrs. Peel has been a provincial officer for the past three years.

Also attending were: Miss Viola Brash, regent of the H.M.C.S. Magnificent, and Jean Crown, standard bearer. Mrs. George Rands, Jr., and Mrs. L. Bawtree, of Ashton Creek, are two more delegates at the three-day convention.

Valley Telephone Company In Record Expansion, 1948

"The Okanagan Valley Telephone Company Ltd. in the 12 months just ended, established an all-time record in the development and expansion of telephone facilities in the territories served. Although 1,532 additional telephone instruments were installed during the year, the number of unfilled applications is almost as large as at the beginning of the year."

Citing this widening of service, and pointing to still further expansion, president Ross Peers reported for the board of directors of the Okanagan Valley Telephone Co. Ltd. in its first 12-month period since reorganization.

Annual meeting of the company was held Tuesday in Vancouver. Board of directors: Mr. Peers, president; B. E. Gunning, vice-president; R. M. Brink, Leon J. Ladner, K.C., F. A. Sherrin, C. D. Campbell, and A. F. Wright. The company owns the Okanagan Telephone Co., Solar Telephones Ltd., and the Summerland Telephone Co. Ltd.

The company anticipates expansion in the Okanagan Valley will continue for some time—15,000 subscribers "does not seem unlikely" in the next few years. Accordingly, for the future, plans have been laid which eventually contemplate conversion of the entire system from manual to automatic operation.

Automatic Exchanges
In 1948, new automatic exchange buildings were built at Armstrong, Westbank and Peachland. Equipment for these three units will be installed this year. Westbank has been completed, and dial systems are scheduled for Lumby and Summerland also this year. The remainder of the program will take several years to complete.

Mr. Peers listed the net addition to plant during the year at $214,070.67, bringing fixed assets up to $1,816,544.89. From July, 1945, to December 31, 1948, net additions to plant amounted to $460,297.18. The 1949 budget of necessary capital expenditure calls for gross expenditures of $294,380.

In financing, Mr. Peers reviewed past sales of debentures and added, "It is to be expected additional financing will be undertaken by the Okanagan Telephone Co. early in the fall of 1949."

Revenue, Expenses
Gross revenue including sundry income for the year was $407,037, up some $67,000 from 1947. Operating expenses were $250,032, an increase of over $30,000, leaving a profit, before interest, depreciation, taxes and amortization, of $208,005.

Interest on borrowed money was $27,998; depreciation was $45,454; taxes to municipal, provincial and federal governments was $53,300; with amortizations $1,022. Net profit was $80,808, compared to $57,085 in 1947.

The average number of employees was 52 men and 60 women. Wages paid, exclusive of head office, were $235,093. There are 782 miles of pole lines. Long distance calls completed were 384,446; daily average number of calls completed, 105,108, and telephones in use numbered 11,283.

ponsored on the basis that a grade cow's maximum value is struck at $80, of which compensation is two-thirds, or $40. A pure bred bull maximum value is $180, by the same token, should such an animal be T.B. infected, $100 would be paid the farmer.

Dr. Smith urged his audience to advise his department if any animal died of an "unknown" cause, that pathological tests can be taken, in the interests of the industry.

"I am not going to rest until the whole of B.C. is T.B.-free, and I will fight for it," concluded Dr. Smith. He said that Vancouver Island will have been an accredited area for six years in 1950, when all cattle will be re-tested.

Kelowna Climbs Out of Slump In Unemployment

KELOWNA.—Kelowna and district has just come through the worst unemployment phase in years.

The ebb was reached around the beginning of March when an estimated 2,000 persons in the city and district were out of work. Three main reasons for the heavy drop in employment were given by George Kennedy, manager of the local branch of the Unemployment Insurance Commission:

1. The severe winter.
2. Influx of residents and workers from the prairies.
3. A general surplus of labor noted all across the country.

"There was a 50 percent increase in benefit claims over the same period last year," Mr. Kennedy revealed. "It was the worst job slump locally since the commission came into being during the war," he said.

Some improvement has been noted over the past few days. Construction jobs are opening up again as the frost comes out of the ground.

Need $10,000 to Repair Crumbled Kelowna Streets

KELOWNA.—The city engineer's department faces one of the heaviest tasks in years due to streets and avenues crumbling as a result of the frost coming out of the ground.

George Meckling, city engineer, recently made a survey of the road damage within the city limits, and in a detailed report showed that about four miles of city roads have been damaged due to the prolonged cold spell.

Mr. Meckling indicated what work should be done in repairing streets. He asked Council for an additional $10,000 over and above the usual estimates for the public works department.

Total of 20,755 feet of roads have been damaged by frost. Of this amount, 11,830 feet are asphalt.

Diameters of planets range from 3,000 miles, in the case of Mercury, to 88,000 miles, in the case of Jupiter.

Boost Mill Rate or Improvements, Penticton Puzzle

PENTICTON.—"I should prefer a unanimous decision of the Council on the steps to be taken to balance the budget this year."

With these words, Alderman S. R. Hawkins, chairman of the civic finance committee, withdrew a motion to adopt a recommendation of the committee that the tax rate on improvements be increased from one-third to 50 percent.

When a report on a special meeting of the finance committee, embodying such a recommendation was introduced at last week's Council meeting, it found Mayor Robert Lyon and Alderman A. E. Tidball, neither of whom is a member of the finance committee, in a balking mood.

"I would not be fulfilling the duties of my office if I were to countenance a motion to increase the improvement tax before the whole Council had studied the estimates," stated His Worship.

His words were echoed by Alderman Tidball.

"As chairman of finance, I would rather the mayor and Alderman Tidball were completely satisfied before we made any motion," was Alderman Hawkins' reply.

The report under debate showed that with further reductions in expenditures, and the addition to revenue of $2,440 from the sale of equipment, it would still require a rate of 65 mills to balance receipts and expenditures, on the basis of a one-third improvement tax.

Latest figures estimate revenue as $851,220; expenses as $908,423.

With this tax increased to 50 percent, a balance could be reached on the basis of 52 mills.

Tel Aviv Market Now Gloomy for Valley Apples

KELOWNA.—Warning that the Okanagan may lose Tel Aviv as a fruit market in the coming crop year, due to the lack of dollars, was made recently by David Brandt, manager of Kouris and Sons, a large importing business in Tel Aviv.

"Fruit imports are not considered essential by a country that has no money to spare," said Mr. Brandt, "and I don't foresee any exchange to pay for imports, unless a system of barter is made available."

Mr. Brandt was in Kelowna to try to arrange a barter between Okanagan apples and citrus fruits grown in the Near East. But this plan is not working out, due to the necessary high price of the Tel Aviv citrus in comparison with Florida and California citrus.

In the past, the Near East has been an outlet for the Okanagan fruit market, and last year Mr. Brandt's firm alone imported 80,000 boxes of apples.

"We would like to import your fruit," said Mr. Brandt, "but we just can't pay for it."

SCREEN FLASHES

The story of a gallant doctor, and an equally gallant dog unfolds on the Capitol Theatre screen, to-night, Thursday, for three days, when "Hills of Home," the drama filmed in technicolor, with Edmund Owen giving a moving portrayal of the doctor of a Scotch village, and Lassie seen as the collie who aids him on his rounds.

Edmund Owen gives a memorable performance as the indomitable MacLure, with other topnotch portrayals offered by Tom Drake as the young Tammara, Janet Leigh as Margit, Donald Crisp as the doctor's staunch friend Drums, and Hugh.

But it is the famous Lassie, of course, around whom most of the action centres and this intelligent and lovable dog actor again proves himself the outstanding screen star of his species.

The latest Abbott and Costello opus, "Abbott and Costello Meet Frankenstein" opens Monday at the Capitol Theatre. The new comedy is probably the most outrageously comical film in which the incomparables, Bud and Lou, have yet appeared.

Including not only the two comedians but also the Wolf Man, Dracula and Frankenstein's Monster, the picture is a "natural" as far as plot is concerned, to bring gales of laughter as the funnymen try to escape from a maze of horror.

Romance, suspense and adventure comprise the triple theme of the latest action film, "Mystery in Mexico," in which William Lundigan, Jacqueline White and Ricardo Cortez are featured. The thrilling adventure starts a three-day run at the Empress Theatre tonight, Thursday.

Tony Barrett, Jacqueline Dalya, Walter Reed and a group of Mexican film favorites are featured in the cast of the exciting picture.

Plunged into the savagery of the Malayan jungles, Big Game Collector Frank Buck made a sensational film record of fierce wild animals in combat. His original feature-length adventure, "Bring 'Em Back Alive," returns to the Empress screen tonight, Thursday. Narrated by Buck, the film opens in Singapore, when the safari is organized. Traveling by ancient methods and catching a hitch-hike atop the royal elephants, the party digs deep into the Malay country where wild life abounds.

"He steals from the rich man and gives it to the poor man" is the theme of the exciting film version of the "Adventures of Robin Hood," featuring the handsome Errol Flynn and beautiful Olivia De Havilland. The thrills, packed "bow and arrow period" entertainment is showing at the Empress Theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Cartoon and news completes the bill.

Make No Change In Kelowna Mill Rate; Tax Stays 45 Mills

KELOWNA.—There will be no change in Kelowna's 1949 mill rate. Last week finance chairman J. J. Ladd formally presented this year's budget to City Council, and the 1949 tax levy will be 45 mills, based on the total assessed value of land and on 50 percent of the assessed value of improvements.

Highlight of Mr. Ladd's announcement was the confirmation that the city will make application to the public utilities commission to charge a flat monthly rate of $2.25 for domestic water consumption. This will eliminate the costly upkeep of maintaining and installing water meters, and at the same time will probably encourage local residents to water lawns and gardens regularly.

Expenditures during the current year are estimated at $910,663.75, while revenue is estimated at $609,971.50, leaving a total of $300,692.25 to be raised by taxation.

Penticton Building Soars; $118,000 for Three-Month Total

PENTICTON.—Building figures again soared in March, reaching a grand total of $118,312, although the figures for the three-month period in 1949 are slightly below those of 1948 for the same period. So far this year, permits in the amount of $203,092 have been issued for businesses and dwellings, as against $245,643 in 1948. However, last month's figures are well over the March 1948 mark of $98,775, and far exceed the February figures—$46,005.

Breakdown of last month's figures shows that six business permits were issued for $10,790 and 52 permits for dwellings and alterations in the amount of $99,562.

$40 Anonymous Donation

KAMLOOPS.—An anonymous donor has added $40 to the Red Cross fund here. The money was sent by mail with a note attached wishing the Society luck.

Receipts of the annual campaign now total $8,007. The objective is $10,000.

The fund-raising drive in the city concluded on March 31, but the campaign is to continue for an unspecified time in the country areas, where road conditions and the spring break-up made canvassing impossible during March.

Farmers on Land Now At Mara

MARA, April 11.—With the spring weather, farmers are busy on the land. Bushmen are finding logging operations much easier now.

The Mara Community Club held its monthly meeting on Friday of last week, at the home of Mrs. E. Witala. There was a good attendance. The organization plans to hold a bazaar at the end of April, and hopes to have a quilt completed by that time. Mrs. Witala served tea during the afternoon.

Mrs. William Kenyon left on Saturday for Vancouver, to attend the wedding of her son, Walter, which takes place this week. Walter served overseas with the S.A.R. during the war. Upon his return he took over a watch repairing and jewellery store in Vancouver.

Several cases of measles have recently developed in Mara, mainly in pre-school-aged children.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Rosman and family were grindrod visitors on Sunday.

Mrs. S. Freeman Deeply Mourned In Lavington

LAVINGTON, April 11.—With profound regret, Lavington heard of the death of Mrs. Stephen Freeman in the Vernon Jubilee Hospital on Thursday morning of last week. Mrs. Freeman died of pneumonia and complications, at the age of 70 years.

Mrs. Freeman will be greatly missed by many, particularly the older residents of the Valley, who feel that a link, welded through the years, has now been broken.

Many people, especially those in need, have received help and kindness from Mrs. Freeman, and her death is deeply and widely mourned.

Mrs. Freeman was born in Kendall, Westmoreland, England, in 1879, and was the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Hunter. Most of her early life was spent in Liverpool, where her father was a prominent industrialist for many years.

She came out to the Lavington district in 1906 with her brother, Jack Hunter, now of Moncton, N.B. She met her future husband, and they were married in England in 1907.

Besides her husband, Stephen Freeman, she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Ed Warr, in England; one son, Michael Stephen, who with his wife, Jean, are Lavington residents; and four grandchildren.

"By her good works shall we remember, and her memory will always be with us."

The sympathy of the community has been extended to her bereaved family.

Make Amendments to Beef Grading Acts

The regulations of the Beef Grading Act have been amended by order in council, according to a notice in the current B.C. Gazette over the signature of Hon. Frank Putnam, Minister of Agriculture.

The change specifies that Grade "A" beef will be designated by the letter "A" and the word "Choice" in red ink; Grade "B" by "B"

USE OUR COMPLETE WHEEL ALIGNMENT SERVICE

Did you know that if one of your wheels is as little as one-eighth inch out of line, your tire is dragged sideways approximately 88 feet in every mile? It is easy to see from this fact, how much unnecessary wear your tires receive if your wheels are out of line.

Faulty wheel alignment, like faulty brakes, also makes driving hazardous. Play safe—drive in today and let us check your wheel alignment with our Bennett-Feragen Chassis Analyzer. In a matter of minutes we can give you accurate, visual proof of the exact alignment condition of your wheels. If correction is necessary, we can put your wheels in perfect alignment quickly and at a surprisingly low cost.
